Schoonmaker Says 'Nothing Definite' On Kingston Site

Newb'gh Department Store President Declines Information; Earlier Interest Told

The John Schoonmaker and Son Inc., company of Newburgh, operators of one of the largest department stores in the Hudson Valley, is considering the possibility of establishing a local branch, The Freeman learned today.

Queried by telephone, Samuel V. Schoonmaker, president of the Schoonmaker company, said "there is nothing definite at present." Mr. Schoonmaker declined to reveal whether any definite locations in Kingston have been surveyed.

The Freeman, however, learned from Harry Rigby, of the Chamber of Commerce, that Schoonmaker officials had expressed "mild interest" in a Kingston branch early last winter. Since then, he said, he has heard nothing further on the proposition.

Local Chamber of Commerce officials said they had not been approached by the Schoonmaker firm regarding any phase of the possible branch.

Rumors concerning the Schoonmaker location in this city have been revived in the past few weeks, but Schoonmaker today declined to elaborate on details.

The Schoonmaker concern operates a branch store in Beacon.

Roving Horse Is Shot by J. Walker

Animal Had Ripped Up Farmland While Running Loose

Flying hoofs that churned up farmland along the Plank road flats were stilled at noon today by the high-powered rifle of young John Walker, one of the agriculturists whose garden was ripped up by the galloping trespasser on the loose.

For some time the horse owned by Harry Harries had been wandering about the countryside defying capture and doing damage to market gardens. Mr. Harries told the sheriff that the horse "broke loose" from his premises and that he was unable to capture it.

On Tuesday residents of the neighborhood were called and told by Sheriff Smith to form a posse at 5 o'clock when the "wild" horse was to be tracked down. At that hour the "posse" started out on the chase and for the next hour and a half there was real wild west action, action which would have done justice to any western round-up.

Caught Once

From farm to farm the posse chased the horse, on foot and by automobile and property owners whose gardens have been suffering damage from the hoofs of the animal found their fields again being churned by the flying hoofs. At 6:30 Tuesday afternoon 20 men aided by the use of five cars finally cornered the animal in

Smudge Pots Combat Columbia County Cold

Kinderhook, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Smudge pots burned in Columbia county early today as cold weather threatened the budding apple crop in upper Hudson Valley.

The pots were lighted shortly after midnight when the mercury dropped to freezing and went on down to 25 degrees before dawn.

One orchard owner, Abram Van Alstyne, said heat generated by the burning oil proved successful in saving his apple buds this morning.

Sells Recommends Kingston Bridge

Approval Has Been Sent to Governor Dewey, Official Says

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce reports today that Charles H. Sells, superintendent of the Department of Public Works of the State of New York, has recommended signing of the Wicks-Hatfield Bill, which authorizes construction of a bridge across the Hudson River between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

A local committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been contacting state officials in the interest of the measure, was informed by Superintendent Sells that he has sent his approval of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge to Governor Dewey.

The governor has until April 25 to approve or veto the bridge bill.

When the Legislature adjourned on March 27, it left with Governor Dewey a total of 1,065 bills upon which action had to be taken within 30 days. The Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Bill is one of the record number of bills before the governor in the 30-day post-legislative period.

Franchise Transferred

A deed transferring the franchise interests of the Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry Company, Inc., to the Cornell Steamboat Company, was filed yesterday in the county clerk's office. This transfer is another step in the securing of title to the ferry slips by the state for the operation of the ferry between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

Brophy Is Credited With Recovering Stolen Automobile

Patrolman's Suspicions Aroused at 4:50 a. m. by Slow Driving; Slater Held

Keen observation and quick work on the part of Patrolman Clarence W. Brophy of the Kingston Police Department, at 4:50 o'clock this morning led to the arrest of Archie Pierce Slater, 44, of Menands, and the recovery of a 1942 Ford sedan, that later in the morning was reported as stolen from Menands.

The Menands police were notified by telephone by Chief of Police Charles Phinney that Slater was being held at headquarters here, and that Slater had admitted that the car he was driving had been stolen from Menands last night.

The police chief of Menands asked Chief Phinney to hold Slater and the car until he could send police officers here later today.

Recovered with the automobile were two suit cases, a small radio, an army sergeant's shirt, and two suits of clothes.

Officer Brophy was on patrol duty in the uptown section of the city shortly after 4 o'clock this morning when he noticed an automobile being driven slowly through the streets. His suspicions aroused, he commandeered an automobile and set chase after the car.

Statement Is Reported

The car and the driver were taken to the city hall, where Slater was closely questioned. According to the police he made a statement in which he is alleged to have confessed to the theft of the auto he was driving.

According to the police, Slater said he was employed as a caretaker of a large estate in Menands. Last night he went into Albany where he is reported as saying he had a few drinks. He then returned to the Menands estate and as he entered the grounds he saw the Ford car parked, with the key in the ignition switch.

The police said that Slater admitted he had taken the car and started to drive south, and had gotten as far as Kingston when

Dinner Is Given Louis Bruhn As Surprise Testimonial

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was lauded as an outstanding Kingston young man who had achieved success in the legal profession in the same unassuming, unimpeachable manner that characterized his baseball career, last night at a surprise testimonial tendered him by a group of friends at the Crystal Gardens.

Approximately 75 of Mr. Bruhn's former baseball buddies and sports associates and members of the legal profession attended the dinner.

Tommy Davitt in the role of master of ceremonies kept the program moving at a lively pace. After the dinner, a series of speakers showered tributes on the young district attorney.

Paul Zucca led group singing during the dinner, with Harry Maisenhelder at the piano. Martin Kelly, popular local tenor, sang several selections, while "Dub" Raichle responded to popular demands and sang a solo.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth presented District Attorney Bruhn with a brief case in behalf of the assemblage. Artie Organtine, proprietor of the Crystal Gardens, who was instrumental in arranging the surprise party, presented Bruhn with a miniature baseball and bat as a legacy to Mr. Bruhn's young son.

The mayor spoke of the early youth and schoolboy days of the new district attorney and recalled the tremendous sports enthusiasm of Mr. Bruhn's father. Mayor Edelmuth remarked that the late Lou Bruhn, Sr., had always shown intense interest in his youngsters,

Porter Says Panic Has Potentials

Breakdown of Price Controls Could Bring Rush of Spending, He Fears

'Danger Is Real'

Living Costs Could Go to 50 Per Cent, He Declares

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Price Administrator Paul Porter said today breakdown of the present price control system can panic the nation's consumers into a "stampede" of costly spending.

The breakdown danger, he said, "is a real and frightening possibility."

There already is a rapidly spreading belief among businessmen, Porter asserted in testimony prepared for the Senate Banking Committee, that Congress "will either scuttle price control completely or take action which will compel O.P.A. to raise prices drastically."

Should that belief spread to the consuming public, he added, "the stampede will be on."

Porter testified in the Senate wing of the Capitol as the House called for votes on what to do about the price agency. Congressional friends of President Truman were frankly alarmed over the outcome.

The administration has been seeking a full year extension beyond June 30 with present controls left intact.

The O.P.A. chief told the senators that "if this country, with $225,000,000,000 bulging in its pockets, goes on an economic bender, there won't be just a comfortable little readjustment in prices.

"A climb of 30, 40 or 50 per cent above the present level for the first year of the boom seems to me a conservative forecast."

Speaks of Average Family

Porter boiled down his inflation fears to terms of an "average family," now spending $2,500 a year. Twelve months of 40 per cent inflation, he said, would boost such a family's expenses to $3,450 for food, clothing, rent and other regular items.

Discussing the effects of inflation on war bonds and other investments, Porter observed:

"If a witness were to appear at this hearing with the proposal of a capital levy of 50 per cent on all the savings accounts, the life insurance policies, the bonds and mortgages, and the university and hospital endowments which a generation of thrift and self-denial has amassed, he would cer-

House Votes Nine Month O.P.A. Life

Vote Is 171 to 144; Roll Call to Be Held; G.O.P. in Charge

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The House voted 171 to 144 today to limit O.P.A.'s new lease on life to nine months, instead of to the full year requested by President Truman. The vote is subject to a formal call.

Republicans, with the help of a few Democrats, took control—temporarily at least—of the price control legislation on the House floor.

The motion to limit O.P.A.'s new life span was offered by Rep. Wolcott (R., Mich.).

Earlier the House refused to kill O.P.A. on June 30, defeating 178 to 34 a motion by Rep. Rankin (D., Miss.) to strike out the enacting clause of the O.P.A. extension bill.

Rankin shouted to the House, "if you want to destroy the confidence of the American people in their government, just continue this Communistic O.P.A."

Scores of other amendments proposing far-reaching revisions of O.P.A. still are pending.

On the teller vote on Rankin's motion, reporters counted only 32 Republicans and two Democrats for it.

The House then proceeded toward action on various proposals for amendments of the O.P.A. law.

LEO P. FENNELLY

CityClerk Fennelly Dies Suddenly of Heart Ailment

His Death Is Attributed to Coronary Thrombosis; Had Served City Since 1942

Leo P. Fennelly, who has served as city clerk since 1942, died suddenly last night at his home, 2 Schryver Court. He was 51 years old.

Death was attributed to acute coronary thrombosis according to Dr. John Olivet, who had been attending Mr. Fennelly.

Funeral services will be held Saturday from the late home at 9:30 a. m. and at St. Joseph's Church at 10 o'clock, where the body will be blessed. A high Mass of requiem will be celebrated Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. Fennelly had been ailing only three days and while his illness was considered serious, his death occurred unexpectedly. He had reported at City Hall as usual on Monday but complained that he felt ill and departed for home.

A former newspaperman of wide experience in New York state, Mr. Fennelly entered politics in 1939, and in 1942 was appointed city clerk by Mayor William F. Edelmuth.

Was Widely Known

Mr. Fennelly was widely known among newspapermen of the area and in all circles in the city. He had achieved an enviable record as city clerk and his warm, congenial personality won for him high praise and regard.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth, who appointed Fennelly to the office of city clerk in 1942, was visibly moved and shocked when he learned of Mr. Fennelly's sudden death.

"I was profoundly shocked to hear of the death of Mr. Fennelly," Mayor Edelmuth said this morning. "I have lost a truly great friend, and the city of Kingston has lost a faithful public servant. I am sure the entire community shares with me the grief occasioned by his untimely passing.

'One of Most Respected'

"Leo Fennelly," the mayor continued, "was a capable, loyal and faithful public official. His quiet unassuming efficiency made him one of the most respected members of my official family. I am proud to have been associated with him and I consider his death a distinct loss to the public life of Kingston."

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence Magee Fennelly; a son, Brian Leo Fennelly; a sister, Sarah T. Fennelly of 2 Schryver Court and three brothers, Patrick J., of New Haven, Conn., Dennis E., of 22 Clinton avenue, this city, and John of New York city.

A nativev of Delaware county, Mr. Fennelly was born in Roxbury on September 13, 1895, the son of Patrick J. and Catherine Kalaher Fennelly. The family moved to Oneonta in 1901 where Mr. Fennelly attended public schools. In 1909 the family came to Kingston and Mr. Fennelly had resided here since then. He attended St. Joseph's parochial school and later took special business courses in New York city schools.

A devout Catholic, he was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church, Kingston Post American Legion, the Knights of Columbus, the Elks Club and the Kingston Newspaper Guild, a chapter of the American Newspaper Guild.

Long in Newspaper Business

The greater portion of Mr. Fennelly's career was identified with the newspaper business where he

MacArthur Says His Past Administration Is Nothing For Soviets to Consider Now

His Purge Directive Is Defended; Declines Request for Drafts of Rescripts

Tokyo, April 17 (AP) — General MacArthur replied to Russian criticism by bluntly telling the four-power Allied Council today that consideration of his past actions in administering Japan was not part of its job.

And his military government officer asserted that Russia's questioning of Allied occupation policy, "whether in good faith or not . . . is a warning that success of the occupation is threatened."

MacArthur told the Council in a written statement that its "responsibility, being exclusively advisory and consultative, does not involve a review of action heretofore taken in the administration of Japan."

His military government officer, Brig. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said the Japanese government was complying with the purge directive "as fast as consistent with occupation policies."

MacArthur also replied to a Russian request that a new election be held if an "undesirable" Diet were chosen in last Wednesday's balloting. He indicated some successful candidates would be investigated further, and added:

"It is essential that the supreme commander issue no statement and avoid any action which might seem to bring pressure for or against any particular party or group."

MacArthur also declined a request for drafts of imperial rescripts, government legislative acts and orders of the ministers and ministries at least 10 days prior to issuance. "To require such delay of the Japanese government," he said, "would but cause practical suspension of its administrative functions."

Whitney Gives Reply

Russian charges that certain undesirable persons were not being removed from office and that democratization of Japan was thus endangered brought a brusque reply from Whitney before MacArthur's statement was read.

"So far as I know," Whitney declared, "neither the member from the U.S.S.R. nor others have any knowledge of the manner of Japanese compliance with the purge directive, as they haven't sought this information" from Allied headquarters.

The military government officer cited the election a week ago as refutation of the Soviet charge. Seventy-three per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls, he

Kingston May Get Better Trains as Result of Parley

Ruth Says He Will Take Fast Train Proposal to N. Y. Central Officials

Improved train service for Kingstonians this summer appears likely following last night's meeting between members of the Chamber of Commerce's Transportation Committee and New York Central Railroad officials.

The confab at the Governor Clinton had been called specifically to enable the Chamber committee to present facts vindicating the desire of Kingston citizens for better West Shore service, based on a poll recently conducted in local newspapers.

During the discussion it developed that the New York Central already had given some thought to the subject in light of proposed summer schedules.

The Central plans nine additional east bound trains and 11 west bound trains, with stops at Rhinecliff on its tentative summer schedule, Theodore R. Ruth, Division Passenger Agent, told the local group. Additional trains also are slated for the West Shore line on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

With Kingston now serviced by the new ferry Mr. Ruth expressed the opinion that the new schedules would help solve the problem.

Will Take Proposals

After listening to the Kingston proposal for two fast trains daily between here and New York, Mr. Ruth assured the committee that he would take the recommendations under advisement and present them to New York Central officials in New York. Mr. Ruth said he was not authorized to speak officially.

Mr. Ruth will recommend to Central officials that Train No. 14 depart from Kingston at 6:45 a. m. daily to arrive in New York shortly after 9 o'clock. Such a schedule would cut down the normal running time between 15 minutes and half a hour.

It was proposed that Train No. 37 be made a daily train, or daily except Sunday, leaving Weehawken, New Jersey at 5:20 p. m. and arriving in Kingston about 7:25 o'clock. This train is planned only for Fridays in the summer schedule, but Mr. Ruth will recommend that it be operated on a daily basis.

Decision Is Awaited

The daily running of these two trains would adequately meet local needs, the committee informed Mr. Ruth. A decision by company officials is expected within the next two weeks.

Bert Bishop, chairman of the Transportation Committee, led the discussion. Other members of the committee present were Robert G. Groves, Maynard Mizel, Jacob Greenwald, John Cole, Monroe Southard. Representing the New York Central were Theodore R. Ruth, Division Passenger Agent, of Albany; H. J. Korphaje, assistant to Mr. Ruth; and S. J. Keating, Supervisor of Tracks, in Kingston.

The local committee recommended that the proposed schedules be given a six month's trial. They pledged to arouse Kingston support of the new arrangement in order to insure permanent service at the end of the trial period.

Changchun Seizure by Sino Communists Is Forecast

Peiping, April 17 (AP)—The fall of Changchun, capital of civil wartorn Manchuria, to an overwhelming force of Communist troops, was forecast at Sino-American troop headquarters today as China hopefully awaited the arrival of peace-seeking General Marshall.

Latest news dispatches reported Communist forces had penetrated deep into Changchun, seized its only railway station, and disrupted communications formerly controlled by government officials.

Peiping observers doubted that government troops there would hold out three more days. In Chungking, officials estimated the government's new First Army would require at least a week to push the 90 miles from newly seized Szepingkai north of Changchun against Communist harrassment. The army was moving afoot, with mules hauling its American equipment.

Marshall was expected to arrive in midafternoon from Tokyo, where he conferred yesterday with General MacArthur. He is returning from important Washington conferences with President Truman to try to enforce the peace agreement he negotiated in January, but which was disregarded after he left for the United States.

Associated Press Correspondent Tom Masterson, one of five American correspondents isolated in Changchun by the embattled Communist, managed to send out a dispatch reporting the Reds had captured the capital's only railroad station. That gave them transportation for supplies and for reinforcements, should they decide

President Says We Eat Too Much

If Slim Eating Were Followed, He Says, It Would be Good Thing

Waste Is Cited

Americans Throw Too Much Away in His Opinion

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Expressing belief Americans eat too much, President Truman said today it would be a good idea if they tried getting along on European rations for two days a week during the world food crisis.

The subject came up at the President's news conference during a discussion of the food situation, which Mr. Truman will review later in the day with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Chester Davis of the President's Famine Emergency Committee. A reporter asked:

"What is your reaction to the proposal that Americans voluntarily one day a week go on a diet similar in caloric content to the European countries."

Without hestitation, Mr. Truman said he thought it would be a wonderful thing for them to do that for two days a week.

They would know then, he said, exactly what it means to go hungry. Most of us, he added, eat too much and throw too much away.

There is enough food wasted every day in this country, Mr. Truman said, to feed all the starving peoples for the time that we have to take care of them.

U.N.R.R.A. officials have estimated the present European diet at about one-third of the U. S. standard. The daily American ration per person averages about 3,300 calories, U.N.R.R.A. says, while that in Europe ranges from 1,500 calories to as low as 800 in some areas.

'Very Much Mistaken'

At the same time, Mr. Truman said Herbert H. Lehman, former director-general of U.N.R.R.A., was very much mistaken in saying that the administration wasn't doing all it could to avert worldwide famine.

The President added, however, that Lehman's heart was very much in the question of feeding Europe and that he was glad that it was.

Lehman charged the government with "faulty planning and unrealistic measures" in handling the food problem and called for a resumption of rationing here to meet relief commitments abroad. Abandonment of rationing in this country at the end of the war, Lehman said, was "a most unfortunate decision."

Mr. Truman's comments on food coincided with these other developments:

The Agriculture Department disclosed the nation's meat supply is sagging to wartime ration levels and may remain there until early fall.

The C.I.O. Political Action Committee echoed Lehman's proposal for a renewal of wartime food controls to help increase relief supplies.

Mr. Truman also told his news conference that he would back Secretary of Agriculture Anderson if he issues a proposed order cutting the use of flour 25 per cent.

He also said, in response to a question, that he had not been called to referee a dispute between Anderson and Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles over milk subsidies. He added, however, that he would referee one if it came up.

The President also expressed willingness to make a personal contribution to the food shortage by turning over a calf to Anderson. He disclosed his intention after a reporter told him that he was to receive a calf this week as a gift.

A report on meat supplies was made by the Agriculture Department in announcing how it will divide dwindling stocks among civilians, the armed forces, and needy areas abroad during the April-June quarter.

Per Capita Rate

The per capita civilian meat supply at least until July 1 is expected to be at an annual average rate of 132 pounds (carcass weight basis), as compared with the 147-pound annual rate available during the first three months of the year.

In 1943 when wartime meat ra-

Porter boiled down his inflation fears to terms of an "average family," now spending $2,500 a year. Twelve months of 40 per cent inflation, he said, would boost such a family's expenses to $3,450 for food, clothing, rent and other regular items.

Discussing the effects of inflation on war bonds and other investments, Porter observed:

"If a witness were to appear at this hearing with the proposal of a capital levy of 50 per cent on all the savings accounts, the life insurance policies, the bonds and mortgages, and the university and hospital endowments which a generation of thrift and self-denial has amassed, he would cer-

House Votes Nine Month O.P.A. Life

Vote Is 171 to 144; Roll Call to Be Held; G.O.P. in Charge

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The House voted 171 to 144 today to limit O.P.A.'s new lease on life to nine months, instead of to the full year requested by President Truman. The vote is subject to a formal call.

Republicans, with the help of a few Democrats, took control—temporarily at least—of the price control legislation on the House floor.

The motion to limit O.P.A.'s new life span was offered by Rep. Wolcott (R., Mich.).

Earlier the House refused to kill O.P.A. on June 30, defeating 178 to 34 a motion by Rep. Rankin (D., Miss.) to strike out the enacting clause of the O.P.A. extension bill.

Rankin shouted to the House, "if you want to destroy the confidence of the American people in their government, just continue this Communistic O.P.A."

Scores of other amendments proposing far-reaching revisions of O.P.A. still are pending.

On the teller vote on Rankin's motion, reporters counted only 32 Republicans and two Democrats for it.

The House then proceeded toward action on various proposals for amendments of the O.P.A. law.

City Clerk Fennelly Dies Suddenly of Heart Ailment

His Death Is Attributed to Coronary Thrombosis; Had Served City Since 1942

Leo P. Fennelly, who has served as city clerk since 1942, died suddenly last night at his home, 2 Schryver Court. He was 51 years old.

Death was attributed to acute coronary thrombosis according to Dr. John Olivet, who had been attending Mr. Fennelly.

Mr. Fennelly had been ailing only three days and while his illness was considered serious, his death occurred unexpectedly. He had reported at City Hall as usual on Monday but complained that he felt ill and departed for home.

A former newspaperman of wide experience in New York state, Mr. Fennelly entered politics in 1939, and in 1942 was appointed city clerk by Mayor William F. Edelmuth.

Was Widely Known

Mr. Fennelly was widely known among newspapermen of the area and in all circles in the city. He had achieved an enviable record as city clerk and his warm, congenial personality won for him high praise and regard.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth, who appointed Fennelly to the office of city clerk in 1942, was visibly moved and shocked when he learned of Mr. Fennelly's sudden death.

"I was profoundly shocked to hear of the death of Mr. Fennelly," Mayor Edelmuth said this morning. "I have lost a truly great friend, and the city of Kingston has lost a faithful public servant. I am sure the entire community shares with me the grief occasioned by his untimely passing.

'One of Most Respected'

"Leo Fennelly," the mayor continued, "was a capable, loyal and faithful public official. His quiet unassuming efficiency made him one of the most respected members of my official family. I am proud to have been associated with him and I consider his death a distinct loss to the public life of Kingston."

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence Magee Fennelly; a son, Brian Leo Fennelly; a sister, Sarah T. Fennelly of 2 Schryver Court and three brothers, Patrick J., of New Haven, Conn., Dennis E., of 22 Clinton avenue, this city, and John of New York city.

A native of Delaware county, Mr. Fennelly was born in Roxbury on September 13, 1895, the son of Patrick J. and Catherine Kalaher Fennelly. The family moved to Oneonta in 1901 where Mr. Fennelly attended public schools. In 1909 the family came to Kingston and Mr. Fennelly had resided here since then. He attended St. Joseph's parochial school and later took special business courses in New York city schools.

A devout Catholic, he was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church, Kingston Post American Legion, the Knights of Columbus, the Elks Club and the Kingston Newspaper Guild, a chapter of the American Newspaper Guild.

Long in Newspaper Business

The greater portion of Mr. Fennelly's career was identified with the newspaper business where he

Kingston May Get Better Trains as Result of Parley

Ruth Says He Will Take Fast Train Proposal to N. Y. Central Officials

Improved train service for Kingstonians this summer appears likely following last night's meeting between members of the Chamber of Commerce's Transportation Committee and New York Central Railroad officials.

The confab at the Governor Clinton had been called specifically to enable the Chamber committee to present facts vindicating the desire of Kingston citizens for better West Shore service, based on a poll recently conducted in local newspapers.

During the discussion it developed that the New York Central already had given some thought to the subject in light of proposed summer schedules.

The Central plans nine additional east bound trains and 11 west bound trains, with stops at Rhinecliff on its tentative summer schedule, Theodore R. Ruth, Division Passenger Agent, told the local group. Additional trains also are slated for the West Shore line on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

With Kingston now serviced by the new ferry Mr. Ruth expressed the opinion that the new schedules would help solve the problem.

Will Take Proposals

After listening to the Kingston proposal for two fast trains daily between here and New York, Mr. Ruth assured the committee that he would take the recommendations under advisement and present them to New York Central officials in New York. Mr. Ruth said he was not authorized to speak officially.

Mr. Ruth will recommend to Central officials that Train No. 14 depart from Kingston at 6:45 a. m. daily to arrive in New York shortly after 9 o'clock. Such a schedule would cut down the normal running time between 15 minutes and half a hour.

It was proposed that Train No. 37 be made a daily train, or daily except Sunday, leaving Weehawken, New Jersey at 5:20 p. m. and arriving in Kingston about 7:25 o'clock. This train is planned only for Fridays in the summer schedule, but Mr. Ruth will recommend that it be operated on a daily basis.

Decision Is Awaited

The daily running of these two trains would adequately meet local needs, the committee informed Mr. Ruth. A decision by company officials is expected within the next two weeks.

Bert Bishop, chairman of the Transportation Committee, led the discussion. Other members of the committee present were Robert G. Groves, Maynard Mizel, Jacob Greenwald, John Cole, Monroe Southard. Representing the New York Central were Theodore R. Ruth, Division Passenger Agent, of Albany; H. J. Korphaje, assistant to Mr. Ruth; and S. J. Keating, Supervisor of Tracks, in Kingston.

The local committee recommended that the proposed schedules be given a six month's trial. They pledged to arouse Kingston support of the new arrangement in order to insure permanent service at the end of the trial period.

His Purge Directive Is Defended; Declines Request for Drafts of Rescripts

Tokyo, April 17 (AP) — General MacArthur replied to Russian criticism by bluntly telling the four-power Allied Council today that consideration of his past actions in administering Japan was not part of its job.

And his military government officer asserted that Russia's questioning of Allied occupation policy, "whether in good faith or not . . . is a warning that success of the occupation is threatened."

MacArthur told the Council in a written statement that its "responsibility, being exclusively advisory and consultative, does not involve a review of action heretofore taken in the administration of Japan."

His military government officer, Brig. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said the Japanese government was complying with the purge directive "as fast as consistent with occupation policies."

MacArthur also replied to a Russian request that a new election be held if an "undesirable" Diet were chosen in last Wednesday's balloting. He indicated some successful candidates would be investigated further, and added:

"It is essential that the supreme commander issue no statement and avoid any action which might seem to bring pressure for or against any particular party or group."

MacArthur also declined a request for drafts of imperial rescripts, government legislative acts and orders of the ministers and ministries at least 10 days prior to issuance. "To require such delay of the Japanese government," he said, "would but cause practical suspension of its administrative functions."

Whitney Gives Reply

Russian charges that certain undesirable persons were not being removed from office and that democratization of Japan was thus endangered brought a brusque reply from Whitney before MacArthur's statement was read.

"So far as I know," Whitney declared, "neither the member from the U.S.S.R. nor others have any knowledge of the manner of Japanese compliance with the purge directive, as they haven't sought this information" from Allied headquarters.

The military government officer cited the election a week ago as refutation of the Soviet charge. Seventy-three per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls, he

Changchun Seizure by Sino Communists Is Forecast

Peiping, April 17 (AP)—The fall of Changchun, capital of civil war-torn Manchuria, to an overwhelming force of Communist troops, was forecast at Sino-American troop headquarters today as China hopefully awaited the arrival of peace-seeking General Marshall.

Latest news dispatches reported Communist forces had penetrated deep into Changchun, seized its only railway station, and disrupted communications formerly controlled by government officials.

Peiping observers doubted that government troops there would hold out three more days. In Chungking, officials estimated the government's new First Army would require at least a week to push the 90 miles from newly seized Szepingkai north of Changchun against Communist harrassment. The army was moving afoot, with mules hauling its American equipment.

Marshall was expected to arrive in midafternoon from Tokyo, where he conferred yesterday with General MacArthur. He is returning from important Washington conferences with President Truman to try to enforce the peace agreement he negotiated in January, but which was disregarded after he left for the United States.

Associated Press Correspondent Tom Masterson, one of five American correspondents isolated in Changchun by the embattled Communist, managed to send out a dispatch reporting the Reds had captured the capital's only railroad station. That gave them transportation for supplies and for reinforcements, should they decide

President Says We Eat Too Much

If Slim Eating Were Followed, He Says, It Would be Good Thing

Waste Is Cited

Americans Throw Too Much Away in His Opinion

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Expressing belief Americans eat too much, President Truman said today it would be a good idea if they tried getting along on European rations for two days a week during the world food crisis.

The subject came up at the President's news conference during a discussion of the food situation, which Mr Truman will review later in the day with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Chester Davis of the President's Famine Emergency Committee. A reporter asked:

"What is your reaction to the proposal that Americans voluntarily one day a week go on a diet similar in caloric content to the European countries."

Without hestitation, Mr. Truman said he thought it would be a wonderful thing for them to do that for two days a week.

They would know then, he said, exactly what it means to go hungry. Most of us, he added, eat too

There is enough food wasted every day in this country, Mr. Truman said, to feed all the starving peoples for the time that we have to take care of them.

U.N.R.R.A. officials have estimated the present European diet at about one-third of the U. S. standard. The daily American ration per person averages about 3,300 calories, U.N.R.R.A. says, while that in Europe ranges from 1,500 calories to as low as 800 in some areas.

'Very Much Mistaken'

At the same time, Mr. Truman said Herbert H. Lehman, former director-general of U.N.R.R.A., was very much mistaken in saying that the administration wasn't doing all it could to avert world-wide famine.

The President added, however, that Lehman's heart was very much in the question of feeding Europe and that he was glad that it was.

Lehman charged the government with "faulty planning and unrealistic measures" in handling the food problem and called for a resumption of rationing here to meet relief commitments abroad. Abandonment of rationing in this country at the end of the war, Lehman said, was "a most unfortunate decision."

Mr. Truman's comments on food coincided with these other developments:

The Agriculture Department disclosed the nation's meat supply is sagging to wartime ration levels and may remain there until early fall.

The C.I.O. Political Action Committee echoed Lehman's proposal for a renewal of wartime food controls to help increase relief supplies.

Mr. Truman also told his news conference that he would back Secretary of Agriculture Anderson if he issues a proposed order cutting the use of flour 25 per cent.

He also said, in response to a question, that he had not been called to referee a dispute between Anderson and Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles over milk subsidies. He added, however, that he would referee one if it came up.

The President also expressed willingness to make a personal contribution to the food shortage by turning over a calf to Anderson. He disclosed his intention after a reporter told him that he was to receive a calf this week as a gift.

A report on meat supplies was made by the Agriculture Department in announcing how it will divide dwindling stocks among civilians, the armed forces, and needy areas abroad during the April-June quarter.

Per Capita Rate

The per capita civilian meat supply at least until July 1 is expected to be at an annual average rate of 132 pounds (carcass weight basis), as compared with the 147-pound annual rate available during the first three months of the year.

In 1943 when wartime meat ra-

The Classis also voted to lengthen the term of office of its president and vice-president to a full year. The state clerk and treasurer were re-elected for another term of three years.

It is expected that the fall meeting will be held in Roxbury.

P.A.C. Anticipates Full Campaign Chest

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The C.I.O. Political Action Committee met today to plan its role in the congressional elections with its chief, Sidney Hillman, confident of a full campaign chest.

The committee of eight top C.I.O. union leaders headed by Hillman put a discussion of campaign funds high on the agenda.

Hillman told a reporter no figure has been set yet as a goal and added the amount would not have "to be so much."

The C.I.O., parent organization of the C.I.O.-P.A.C., has renewed its 1944 appeal to the 6,000,000 members it claims to contribute $1 each.

Aids of Hillman said C.I.O.-P.A.C. will announce, either late today or tomorrow, its election "platform" for the congressional elections.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Domestic Quarrel Ends in Shooting Tragedy

Winifield, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Long months of domestic quarreling and estrangement culminated in a few moments of frenzy yesterday when a former police officer shot to death his wife, his mother-in-law, his sister-in-law and then himself while four frightened children stared without comprehension.

Assistant Union County Prosecutor Edward Cohn said the dead were:

Walter Fizer, 31, a railroad brakeman who had been dismissed in 1944 from the police force of this government-sponsored project for insubordination.

Mrs. Ruth Fizer, 26, his wife; Mrs. George F. Warne, 22, her sister, of Port Richmond, N. Y.; Mrs. Florence Ashley, 55, their mother, of Port Richmond.

The three children of Mrs. Fizer were being taken care of today by neighbors. The fourth child was Florence, 3, daughter of Mrs. Warne. In Mrs. Warne's purse was a telegram from her husband that he was due for discharge from the Army and would be home soon.

The Fizer children are Marilyn, 4, Mrs. Fizer's child by a former marriage, and Caroline, 3, and Gerald, 14 months.

Cohn said that Fizer emptied his revolver in killing the three women and then, after reloading, turned the weapon on himself.

Written in soap on a mirror in the home were these words: "My prayer, may your rotten two-face soul rot in Hell—the sooner the better."

Under the leadership of Oscar P. Deidolf, commander and World War 2 vet, the post has reached its quota of 40. An intensive membership campaign is being planned in Rosendale-High Falls-Stone Ridge area in an effort to double present membership especially from the many discharged World War 2 vets in the area, all of whom are invited to attend the next meeting at the post building, Main street, Rosendale or phone Rosendale 3487 or 2177.

The post will also plan for a dance in the near future and has been informed it will soon receive the rifles so it can form its color guard and firing squad. Also the post will as usual place flags on Veterans' graves in the area.

Sleeping Malady Told by Doctor

Army Physician Reports on Irresistible Form of Disease

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Ever get shaved by a barber who slept while he worked?

Ever see a poker player snooze off while holding aces back to back?

An Army doctor reported today he knew of a man, afflicted with a nervous ailment called narcolepsy, who "occasionally slept while shaving customers in his barber's chair."

The doctor said the malady — marked by "brief attacks of irresistible sleep"—can affect its victims while standing, walking, playing cards, eating or driving an automobile.

Capt. Herbert C. Modlin of the Air Forces Hospital at Keesler Field, Miss., described the sickness in the Military Surgeon. He said it constituted a problem in military life—causing G.I. sufferers to sleep while doing kitchen police, standing guard duty or driving cars.

The ailment also is marked by brief spasms of complete muscular collapse and by periods wherein the patient, although awake, has dream-like hallucinations.

Diagnosis is difficult and sometimes afflicted men are erroneously accussed of "laziness" or "goldbricking," Modlin said.

Modlin said beneficial results were achieved in several of the cases by giving the men benzedrine sulfate—a stimulant that affects the seat of drowsiness in the brain.

Fat is wasted by careless cookers. Once fat has been scorched, overheated, or allowed to become rancid, it is good for nothing but soap making.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

Mrs. Florence White, noted dog breeder of South Weymouth, Mass. and Secretary, Bulldog Club of New England, writes: "GRO-PUP is popular with my prize-winning English bulldogs. I build my daily feeding pattern on GRO-PUP and their 'alive' expression and excellent coats show how well it's working."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's GRO-PUP is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

The Classis also voted to lengthen the term of office of its president and vice-president to a full year. The state clerk and treasurer were re-elected for another term of three years.

It is expected that the fall meeting will be held in Roxbury.

P.A.C. Anticipates Full Campaign Chest

The committee of eight top C.I.O. union leaders headed by Hillman put a discussion of campaign funds high on the agenda.

Hillman told a reporter no figure has been set yet as a goal and added the amount would not have "to be so much."

The C.I.O., parent organization of the C.I.O.-P.A.C., has renewed its 1944 appeal to the 6,000,000 members it claims to contribute $1 each.

Aids of Hillman said C.I.O.-P.A.C. will announce, either late today or tomorrow, its election "platform" for the congressional elections.

LOANS FOR VETERANS

The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks has prepared a pamphlet to explain as clearly as possible guaranteed and insured home loans and the manner in which the savings bank can be of assistance to the returning veteran in obtaining such loans.

The mutual savings banks feel that they have a responsibility to the veteran greater than merely providing assistance to obtain guaranteed loans. The intent of the law is that the veteran should have a satisfactory experience in owning a home and, consequently, the savings banks desire to assist the veteran in such a manner as to be reasonably certain that the ultimate intent of the Act will be attained. When a guaranteed loan is being obtained, the savings bank will want to know in order to protect the veteran that the purchase price does not exceed the reasonable value of the property and that the veteran is not incurring an obligation beyond his ability to carry.

The veteran and members of his family are invited to inquire about these loans at the nearest mutual savings bank.

The government does not make loans to purchase or build homes. The loans are made by mutual savings banks and other lenders. If a veteran has no funds or has insufficient funds to pay the equity money or down payment, the Veterans' Administration guarantees the payment of a part of the loan or insures the loan as a substitute for the equity money or the down payment which the borrower would ordinarily furnish.

This guaranty or insurance is not a gift to the veteran. It is in effect an advance to him to enable him to purchase a home, which must be repaid. The law provides in effect that in the event the Veterans' Administrator pays the guaranty because the veteran fails to do so, the amount paid becomes a debt due by the veteran to the United States and, in the case of his death, by his estate.

Any amount so paid can be deducted from any sums which the government may thereafter owe him. As the law now stands, a veteran should not unwisely use this guaranty because, if he does, eventually he may be called upon to pay any losses to the government under the guaranty. The savings bank would be doing the veteran no favor to arrange a guaranteed loan on a property which is not reasonably worth its purchase price or make him a loan which is beyond his ability to meet.

The law provides that the aggregate guaranty for all purposes for any one veteran shall not exceed $4,000 for real estate loans and $2,000 for non-real estate loans. If he uses his full guaranty credit in buying a home, he cannot then take advantage of the guaranty provision a second time. Thus if he purchases a home and thereafter sells the property, he cannot again purchase a home by means of a guaranteed loan.

BASEBALL SEASON

For some people it's spring when the storm windows come down and the screens go up; for others when the grass has to be cut for the first time or for the farmers when the good earth has to be plowed. And still for others its the backyard vegetable plot or when the children go violet picking or mother airs the mattress.

But the surest sign of all is baseball—the great American game. On the sandlots and in the parks activity is underway and the local semi-pro teams are arranging schedules. Kingston is assured of baseball aplenty with City League completing its rosters and the Recreations booking big leaguers including the Boston Braves, who will appear here Monday, July 8. Then this year Kingston will be represented in the Hudson Valley League. Add to this the high and grammar school schedules and the softball contests and you have a general picture of the king of all sports reigning supreme here this season.

STRIKERS AND VOTES

A campaign to get strikers to register for the fall election is said to be under way. In Cincinnati, according to Newsweek, a C.I.O. organizer found that only 40 per cent of the strikers had registered and thus become eligible to vote. If the effort is really successful, it may alter some of the expected outcomes in the election.

Whether people agree with the strikers or not, they are right in this movement. People who do not vote have no right to criticize if things go wrong.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF

In the controversy over the unification of the Army and Navy, President Truman again emphasized his title of Commander-in-Chief and took the stance that he having, as Commander-in-Chief, stated his position, his subordinates in the Navy ought to shut up. He seemed to slap down not only Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal but also Admiral Nimitz, who is the professional head of the Navy.

It does not matter so much whether the President is right or wrong about unification, as that his brusque and peremptory attitude was very bad manners. To the country, the opinion of Admiral Nimitz on a technical question concerning the Navy is more valuable than that of the President, who has not established himself as an expert on the subject. The country is troubled because the Army experts and the Navy experts are so positive in their respective views. The President's partisanship does not aid in clarifying this complex and intricate problem. Obviously, the public can have no opinion, because the public does not know the truth. The testimony so far given is so contradictory that the inexpert grows increasingly befuddled.

Yet, it is the inexpert, in Congress and among the voters, who will have to decide. An error now may cost us dearly in the next year. And the state of the world is such that the next war remains in view. This is no time for the type of partisanship the President displayed. It is a time for sober consideration of our prospects of offense, our abilities for defense. Knocking the morale out of the Navy does not help America. Somewhere in this confusion lies the precise truth and telling Admiral Nimitz to shut up does not bring the truth to the surface.

Now, about that commander-in-chief business, certainly the time has come for the President to stick to the title to which he was elected, namely, the Presidency. That requires no embellishment. It is an honorable title that needs no gilding. It adds nothing to the stature of a President to call himself Commander-in-Chief, for he is the latter only because he is the former. Since Grant, no American President, not even those who had been soldiers, were, by training or career, military men of outstanding competence. Certainly not since Theodore Roosevelt has any President been a soldier, except for Mr. Truman's trifling participation in the last war.

Therefore, it becomes ridiculous when the President throws his weight about as Commander-in-Chief. Mr. Roosevelt did it and the Pearl Harbor investigation discloses that it was not to the best advantage of the country. Mr. Truman's current emphasis is particularly unfortunate because he seems to minimize a branch of our armed services which since the days of John Paul Jones has been America's pride.

Neither the services of the airplane nor the use of atomic bomb have convinced Americans that the Navy should be scrapped nor its effectiveness lessened. What men like Admiral Nimitz fear, in amalgamation and unification of the services, is that the Army, which is larger and more numerous, will prevail to such a degree that the effectiveness of the Navy will be lessened to the detriment of the country. Nothing happened during or since the war has convinced Americans that the Navy is through.

In a totalitarian government, the Boss can, of course, do as he chooses. The psychological puzzle, for instance, of the Nuremberg trials is how it was possible for Germans of capacity, ability and training to follow Hitler so blindly. Their answer seems to be that he was the Boss. But, in the United States, there is no Boss. We have no Boss, no leader, no generalissimo. The President is merely an elective official who is required to function within Constitutional limitations during the short period that he is in office. His wartime title of Commander-in-Chief does not change that — nor does it add to that.

Admiral Nimitz ought not to shut up. Nor should anyone. The duty of an American official remains to the American people who want to know the truth and who ultimately will have to pass on it.

DON'T GIVE UP A PATIENT

"There is no such thing as a corpse till the funeral. As long as there is blood to pour in and blood vessels to pour it into, a man can be kept alive and reasonably fit while his injuries are repaired if they are reparable."

I am quoting Dr. W. H. Ogilvie, Consulting Surgeon of the British Army in East Africa in Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics.

Most of us think of blood transfusions as the pint or two pints of blood given to a patient who has a bleeding peptic ulcer, but while a pint of blood may save a life in peptic ulcer and even the life of a wounded soldier, there are other cases where many pints of blood are needed and Dr. Ogilvie says this blood should be poured in as long as it is available."

"Wounded men die of hemorrhage, shock or infection; in the first two hours from hemorrhage, in the first two days from shock of which hemorrhage is the chief cause, later from infection." The thought here is that during that first two hours or two days the two causes of death—hemorrhage and shock—may be prevented by pouring in not two pints of blood, but 52 if necessary.

"One soldier had 58 pints of blood and serum poured into him in 4 days; at the end of 10 days, he was in good condition."

As stated above, in the minds of most of us is the pint or two pints at most, that should be all that is necessary and with private patients this costs money but of course the cost is nothing if the life is saved. However Dr. Ogilvie's statement should arouse us to the fact that one to two pints of blood is not "all" we can do, but in some cases only a fraction of what can be done and that as long as there is blood to pour in it should be poured in. Of course in cases where the heart and blood vessels are known to be weak or diseased, pouring in blood would do more harm than good. As, however, not enough blood circulating through the blood vessels is the cause of "heart failure" due to shock, in all cases of severe injury where loss of blood has caused shock, blood transfusions should be continued as long as possible.

Quake Robs Peter, Pays Paul

Bern, (AP)—A series of earth tremors in Switzerland left various repercussions. City engineers of Sitten (Sion) reported that the Lienne brook had doubled its flow of water, increasing the stream's capacity to produce sorely-needed electricity. At Lausanne, residents were not so pleased. The source of the city drinking water was in springs situated where there were vast amounts of lime sulphates. After the quake the water took on a milky hue from the lime deposits.

Save Some Garden Space for Celtuce

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

CELTUCE is a new leafy vegetable worth space in your post-war vegetable garden. It is related to the lettuce family but adapted to more uses.

When plants are young, the leaves may be used as lettuce or as "greens," but its chief delicacy is its central stem or stalk.

When celtuce has matured, remove the lower leaves and the other fibrous coating of the central stem. Split the stem lengthwise, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Then chill it and serve raw with dressing or cook as celery or asparagus. Cooked celtuce stalks have a pleasing, mild flavor.

Celtuce is important as a "health vegetable" for the young leaves have four times the vitamin C content of head-lettuce leaves.

Another new vegetable is Red Tampala, for which there is an increasing vogue among home gardeners. It is a leafy vegetable grown and used as spinach or other greens.

In addition to being different and sweeter in taste than any of the other greens, it also is a health vegetable for it is much higher in vitamin than spinach.

Tampala seed may be sown outdoors as soon as the ground becomes warm. The plants will be five to six inches high and ready to use in six to eight weeks.

When young, the entire plant may be used. As it develops break off the clusters of tender leaves at the tips of branches and the plants will continue to produce all summer.

The red coloring which distinguishes Red Tampala is retained when it is cooked thus making the "greens" attractive as well as appetizing.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

With Kingston's first convention of firemen in a number of years slated for July in the city, it is interesting to recall that the Common Council on June 14, 1927, adopted Alderman Leo Clare's resolution that the request of the ten volunteer fire companies in the city be granted, and that the sum of $5,000 be included in the 1928 budget for the purpose of helping defray the expenses in entertaining the 1928 convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association in Kingston.

This year the Ulster County Firemen's Association will hold its convention here, and for the first time since the war years the convention will be climaxed by the big firemen's parade.

The steamer Peter Stuyvesant, the new addition to the fleet of the Hudson River Day Line, made its maiden voyage on the Hudson river on June 7, 1927, when a thousand city officials, prominent railroad and steamship men, and others, were the guests of E. R. Olcott, president of the Day Line.

The new steamer had been added to the Day Line fleet at a cost of nearly a million dollars. The trip that day, from the pier at West 42d street, New York, to Tarrytown, and return to New York, was in the nature of an induction into Hudson river service.

Harry A. Tremper resigned his position as assistant treasurer of the Canfield Supply Co. on June 14, 1927, and planned to embark in business for himself at Fishkill, where he had purchased a stationery store.

Mr. Tremper had been with the Canfield Company for 27 years. While a resident of Kingston he was very active in local Masonic circles, and was a member and past master of Rondout Lodge, No. 343.

He was also active in religious circles and for years was a member of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. He had served as a member and president of the board of trustees of that church.

The three-act comedy, "The Blundering Mr. Brown" was presented by a group of young people of the Rondout Presbyterian Church in the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street, on June 17, 1927.

Among those in the cast were Fred L. Van Deusen, Thomas Rowland, Arthur Scott, Burton Van Deusen, Lilliam Metcalf, Kathleen Meeker, Janet Phillips and Ethel Skelton.

With school taxes in Kingston gradually climbing each year it is interesting to recall that the education board at its meeting June 17, 1927, adopted the school budget, fixing the tax rate at $9.80 per thousand valuation, for 1927-28.

Herbert Carl, widely known Kingston business man, died in his home on Linderman avenue, on June 19, 1927, aged 74 years. He first engaged in business in this city in the 70's when he opened the pioneer department store on North Front street.

As the business gradually increased in volume he was forced to buy additional land, and later erected the present building on North Front street, at the head of Wall street, now occupied by Montgomery, Ward Co.

The new department store, one of the largest in this area, was named the Colossal, and for years was used as a department store under the name of the Herbert Carl Dry Goods Company.

After being in the department store business for many years Mr. Carl sold the business to Rose, Gorman & Rose, and in later years the firm name was changed to Rose & Gorman.

Mr. Carl was an active member of all the Masonic bodies in Kingston, and of Cyprus Temple in Albany. He was also an active member of St. James Methodist Church.

Large Groups of Citizens Will Be Formed to Speak in Behalf of United States Navy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 17—President Truman doesn't like lobbying, but the net effect of his effort to muzzle the navy is to create a bigger pressure group.

Since the navy men themselves cannot speak, large groups of citizens will be formed now to speak for them. The navy's position is that the coordinate branches in our armed services should remain independent units but should be operated by a unified command. That unified command, however, should not be one man but a group consisting of representatives of all the armed services.

Such a group operated during the war and was known as the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. While the system had some defects, it managed to win a war in both the Atlantic and Pacific and whenever the heads of the armed services cannot agree on a plan for the defense of the United States, their views can always be reconciled by the President as the commander-in-chief.

What is objected to at present is the proposal that one man be made supreme commander over the army, navy and air forces. No such authority has ever been given before in the history of the United States in war or in peacetime. Such power over military forces has been assumed in other countries and it has led to military dictatorships.

The citizens who do not favor peacetime conscription, or who are opposed to militarism in any form, will not approve a one-man dictatorship or command of our armed forces. Certainly the power to command the army and navy is vested in an elective leader—namely, in the President of the United States—and is not a power that can be delegated by the President.

The proposed statute would give to one individual command of the entire army, navy and air forces. Such an individual would have to know thoroughly each branch of the service and its strategic operations in order to be able to carry on effectively. During the last war it was not found that any one individual knew enough about all of the branches of the services to command them continuously.

Thus it is popularly believed that General Eisenhower had unified command or command of all armed services in Europe. Such was not the case. He did not command the navy and actually he did not have command of the air forces, though he could call for their assistance whenever he needed them. In other words, the air forces operated on their own most of the time.

In the Pacific, there was no single commander who had control of or command over all the forces operating against Japan. General MacArthur was supreme in his region and Admiral Nimitz was supreme in his area. Whatever mistakes were made in the Pacific were due to the fact that Navy admirals tried to tell Army generals or generals tried to tell admirals how to run their respective services. It would seem desirable to study thoroughly these mistakes because they do not lead to mergers and unified commands but they really lead to a set-up of small staffs at lower levels of command which can work out problems on the spot. When irreconcilable differences appear these can be resolved by the U. S. joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

What seems so strange about the emphasis given the merger proposal is that it really does not relate to operational matters at all. It has been advocated as a means of saving money and economizing in procurement and other administrative aspects of the War and Navy Departments. These can be achieved through civilian cooperation and have very little relationship to actual command in the armed services.

What is really needed is a comprehensive study of the defense and security problems of the United States. Once the top men in our military services have decided on a comprehensive defense plan, the question of allocating commands can be taken up as conditions change. The virtue of the U. S. joint chiefs of staffs was that it allocated tasks to particular commanders, realizing that conditions were not the same in all theatres of war. This method of handling the war was successful and there is no good reason for changing it now. The important thing is to make sure that the top men in the Army, the Navy and the Air Forces are broad-gauged individuals who can be expected to sit around a table in the meetings of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff and resolve questions effectively. Two heads are better than one and three heads are better than one. The U. S. joint chiefs of staff was a success, and no argument has been advanced that would warrant the placing command of all our armed services in one man—a subordinate of the President.

GOVERNMENT MEDICINE AND NEW DEAL FIGURES

From time to time I have pointed out the way the Administration boys sling figures around. The New Dealers in F. D. R.'s time were reckless enough, God knows, but well meaning Harry Truman carries recklessness to a point where he is just asking for the kickback.

You recall the figures he tried to sell the American housewife about a three per cent or so advance in the cost of living, with some items actually supposed to be costing less now. Now comes Harry's man Snyder with the great big sugar-candied assurance that more—far more—civilian goods are actually being produced and distributed right now than ever before, although you can't get a white shirt, or a pair of stockings, or a pound of butter, or a stick of lumber, or a farm tractor or a washing machine. If more goods are being made and distributed today than ever before in the history of these United States, would you tell us, Mr. Snyder, who is getting them? We are not.

But for just straight, "caught-in-the-act" misuse of figures until they squeal in protest, take the President's fast-and-loose assertion made in support of the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill for nationalized medicine. Truman said that since six million men and women were rejected from the draft because of physical disability, the need for government applied and financed medical care was evident. Now, the true figures were given out by none other than the great and good friend of socialized medicine and socialized everything else, plus the Russianized atom bomb: namely, Senator Claude E. Pepper of Florida, and potentially of the American Soviet. Here the the "Red Pepper's" figures: total 4 F's —4,217,000. The difference between that and Harry's six million is roughly fifteen per cent, which is enough percentage of error to make any business go broke, or to lose any war. That's just the beginning!

Pepper gives us a breakdown on the 4,217,000: 443,800 (nearly a half million) lacked one or two legs, arms or eyes — a situation which would hardly have been healed by government medicine. More of these unfortunates would have been helped by regulations preventing the mixing of gasoline and alcohol and safety measures, than by any medical therapy! Now comes a big lot, totalling 1,283,800 —rejects because of mental disease and deficiency. But mental therapy does not come within the province of the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill. Just how can Pappy Harry run in the 1,283,800 mental defectives to prove our need for government medicine?

After subtracting the above groups, we have remainiug 2,426,500 physical defectives. 295,000 of this number were rejected for cases of syphilis and gonorrhoea beyond the straightening-out treatment given most cases found in draftees. But government clinics already exist in every state in the union for venereal disease treatment, so Wagner, Murray and Dingle needn't worry about them. Subtracting them, we have left 2,130,500 out of the between 11 and 12 million draftees who might have been helped by Wagner-Murray-Dingle nationalized medical arrangements, had these been in existence before the war. That is about sixteen per cent.

Counting the entire number of 4 F's, the United States armed forces, with the highest physical requirements in the world, rejected 37 per cent of its draftees. (The largest group being dithery people mentally). Britain, with nationalized medicine since 1912, rejected 50 per cent on much lower standards. We now know that the German army found just about the same low state of public health as that found in Britain. (Germany was the original "inventor" of nationalized public care).

Regardless of the merits or demerits of the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill, President Truman really ought to make healthier additions and subtractions. These kind are too readily checked up on, and the end result is not healthy for the Administration.

Parking Meter Disappears

Newark, N. J., April 16 (AP)—Police scratched their heads in puzzlement today over the latest twist in thievery. Someone had stolen a parking meter and post, first such theft in more than a decade of parking meter history in Newark. The meter and post are valued at $60, but the meters are emptied of their nickels three times a day and therefore the best haul a thief could expect would be 40 cents.

Central Hudson Builds New Lines

Electricity, like everything else, went to war and has just returned to civilian life. After five years of war, the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., once again can resume improving its service to the people of Woodstock, Bearsville, Shady, Coldbrook, Lake Hill, Willow, Ideal Park, Wittenberg and the surrounding areas, according to District Manager E. T. Strong, of the Kingston office.

"During the war," Mr. Strong said, "Many people went without electricity simply because necessary materials and skilled labor were not available to supply new users. A tremendous increase of both summer visitors and permanent residents has multiplied the number of people using electricity to the point where present lines are loaded to capacity. If the past five years had been normal, new lines would have constantly been added to meet the demands of the public.

"Forty thousand dollars are now being spent to meet the needs of the consumers of this area," Mr. Strong added. "A new cable is being run from Woodstock Village to the Woodstock Substation, in order to provide more electricity for more people. Another cable is being added between the Woodstock Substation and the Kingston Road, while still another line is being run between Bearsville and Glenford. These lines are the foundations and this work must be completed to adequately serve existing and additional customers.

"These new lines also mean better service for those who have electricity and use it for cooking, water heating, pumping, lighting and all the other uses which make country life so pleasant. Customers served by the Woodstock Substation will now have electricity coming from two directions where formerly it came from only one. By the addition of these new lines, electricty now may be routed around almost any area where trouble might occur. In the past, where electric lines ran through wooded areas, it was possible for winter winds and summer storms to uproot trees or deposit branches on the lines with consequent interruption to the service of large areas until the trouble could be cleared. With these improvements, the areas interrupted in the future will be much smaller, and the interruption will be of shorter duration.

"Keeping up with the latest developments in electrical research and to further protect the system, automatic breaker switches are being installed to automatically clear the lines of minor damage which in the past would have meant a break in service until the damage could be cleared.

"With the number of summer visitors and permanent residents increasing and the new Thruway promising more people, the demand for electricity has grown by leaps and bounds. The new cables and the strengthening of the system means that in the very near future, the company will be able to supply more new customers and provide better service for the old," Mr. Strong concluded.

Lecture Here on Christian Science

H. P. Nunn Is Speaker at High School Auditorium

Herschel P. Nunn, C.S.B. of Portland, Oregon, member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture on Christian Science at the Kingston High School Auditorium Tuesday evening. He spoke in part as follows:

Many a young soldier and many a young sailor in our armed forces today is thanking God for an understanding of Christian Science. Unless these young men were conscious of a very present God, an available God, a good God, an all-knowing God, an all-loving God, they would not find the healing and protection which they find in turning to Him in their hour of great need. But that is the God they have learned to know in their study of Christian Science, a God that is "of purer eyes than to behold evil," a God that is the principle and substance of their being, "with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by the reversed Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, you will find that this word "Principle" is one of the seven synonyms for God which Mrs. Eddy uses in the definition of God on page 465 of this textbook: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." She says on this same page that these terms are synonymous and that "they refer to one absolute God. They are also intended to express the nature, essence and wholeness of Deity." To think of God as Principle brings wonderful comfort, because if God the creator of the universe is known as the divine Principle of His universe then we can think of God as conscious only of that which is in entire accord with His divine nature. Whatever is not in accord with God, good, is not the creation of God. This fact removes forever the possibility of evil of any name or nature having existence in His universe.

Through the inspiration of their Leader, Mrs. Eddy, Christian Scientists have been provided with a much cherished weekly Lesson-Sermon, made up of references from the King James Version of the Holy Bible and correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook. Thus the purity of Christian Science is preserved and human opinion excluded. These Lessons are provided for them in a publication known as the Christian Science Quarterly. Through the prayerful study of this Lesson during the week and the resulting daily application, Christian Scientists come to their churches on Sunday so well prepared to listen to the reading of it that beautiful spiritual unfoldment of new meanings in their two textbooks often comes to them there. Careful study of the Bible and the Christian Science textbook brings to students throughout the world, day by day and every day, spiritual illumination, healing, growth in character, peace, and assurance. This daily study of the Lesson brings spiritual refreshment every morning, increases our mental alertness, and establishes our day in "the secret place of the most High."

Spring's Here—So Is Sulphur

Augusta, Me. (AP)—Sulphur and molasses, favored spring tonic of pre-vitamin days, is still going strong in Augusta. A druggist, who said he operated the old-fashioned type of drug-store, told of many recent purchases of sulphur. Of course, we don't ask customers what they are going to do with it," he added, "but I know that many of them are going to use it for sulphur and molasses."

Domestic Quarrel Ends in Shooting Tragedy

Winifield, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Long months of domestic quarreling and estrangement culminated in a few moments of frenzy yesterday when a former police officer shot to death his wife, his mother-in-law, his sister-in-law and then himself while four frightened children stared without comprehension.

Assistant Union County Prosecutor Edward Cohn said the dead were:

Walter Fizer, 31, a railroad brakeman who had been dismissed in 1944 from the police force of this government-sponsored project for insubordination.

Mrs. Ruth Fizer, 26, his wife; Mrs. George F. Warne, 22, her sister, of Port Richmond, N. Y.; Mrs. Florence Ashley, 55, their mother, of Port Richmond.

The three children of Mrs. Fizer were being taken care of today by neighbors. The fourth child was Florence, 3, daughter of Mrs. Warne. In Mrs. Warne's purse was a telegram from her husband that he was due for discharge from the Army and would be home soon.

The Fizer children are Marilyn, 4, Mrs. Fizer's child by a former marriage, and Caroline, 3, and Gerald, 14 months.

Cohn said that Fizer emptied his revolver in killing the three women and then, after reloading, turned the weapon on himself.

Cohn said Fizer had been brought into police court several times on charges of beating his wife. He said Mrs. Fizer always withdrew the complaints.

Written in soap on a mirror in the home were these words: "My prayer, may your rotten two-face soul rot in Hell—the sooner the better."

Rosendale-Tillson Post, 1219, American Legion, will hold an important business meeting Thursday, April 25, at which many matters of vital importance will be decided. All members are requested to be there.

Under the leadership of Oscar P. Deidolf, commander and World War 2 vet, the post has reached its quota of 40. Sleeping Malady Told by Doctor

Army Physician Reports on Irresistible Form of Disease

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Ever get shaved by a barber who slept while he worked?

Ever see a poker player snooze off while holding aces back to back?

An Army doctor reported today he knew of a man, afflicted with a nervous ailment called narcolepsy, who "occasionally slept while shaving customers in his barber's chair."

The doctor said the malady—marked by "brief attacks of irresistible sleep"—can affect its victims while standing, walking, playing cards, eating or driving an automobile.

Capt. Herbert C. Modlin of the Air Forces Hospital at Keesler Field, Miss., described the sickness in the Military Surgeon. He said it constituted a problem in military life—causing G.I. sufferers to sleep while doing kitchen police, standing guard duty or driving cars.

The ailment also is marked by brief spasms of complete muscular collapse and by periods wherein the patient, although awake, has dream-like hallucinations.

Diagnosis is difficult and sometimes afflicted men are erroneously accussed of "laziness" or "goldbricking," Modlin said.

Modlin said beneficial results were achieved in several of the cases by giving the men benzedrine sulfate—a stimulant that affects the seat of drowsiness in the brain.

Fat is wasted by careless cookers. Once fat has been scorched, overheated, or allowed to become rancid, it is good for nothing but soap making.

Mrs. Florence White, noted dog breeder of South Weymouth, Mass. and Secretary, Bulldog Club of New England, writes: "GRO-PUP is popular with my prize-winning English bulldogs. I build my daily feeding pattern on GRO-PUP and their 'alive' expression and excellent coats show how well it's working."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's GRO-PUP is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

His Bitter Memory

There we stood before the parting,
'round my neck her arms she threw,
And I saw that tears were starting from her dreamy eyes so blue.
My caress did not relieve her,
my heart pained me, I confess,
When I knew I had to leave her—
forty dollars—fo. a dress.

Boss—Do you believe in life after death?

Office Boy—Yes sir.

Boss—Then everything is in order. After you had gone for the afternoon yesterday, to bury your Grandfather, he came in here to see you.

An Australian tried to enlist at Sydney. He was refused on account of his bad feet. Next morning he presented himself once more before the Doctor:

Doctor—It's no use; I can't take you. You couldn't stand the marching. But why are you so darned insistent?

Australian—Well, Doc, I walked 185 miles to get here, and I hate like hell to have to walk back.

Today

Dream not too much of what you'll do tomorrow,
How well perhaps you'll work another year;
Tomorrow's chance you do not need to borrow—
Today is here.

Mess Sergeant—You're not eating your fish. What's wrong with it?

Buck Private—Long time no sea.

Whoever is open, loyal, true; of humane and affable demeanor; honorable himself, and in his judgement of others; faithful to his word as to law, and faithful alike to God and man—such a man is a true gentleman.

Few New Autos Are Received Here Says Rail Office

Very few of the new automobiles that are now rolling off the assembly lines are being received in Kingston, at least over the West Shore railroad, it was said today at the freight office.

Yesterday a freight car loaded with four new automobiles was unloaded. During March and so far in April but a few new cars, mostly Studebakers, Plymouths and Chryslers, have been unloaded at the freight yard here.

These new cars, it is understood, are mostly being received to be used as demonstrators by automobile dealers, and very few are being received for delivery to customers as yet.

What new Ford cars that have arrived in the city, it was said, were being driven in from Albany.

REV. J. B. DONALDSON

John B. Donaldson of 6 Crown street and William Samuels of Brooklyn appeared before the Council of the Gospel Sowers Church, 1117 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn, for examination, which they passed with a high percentage. A special service was then arranged for the purpose of setting them aside as ministers of the Gospel. The service took place in the Brooklyn church.

The ordination sermon was preached by Dr. Herbert A. Barton, D.D., pastor of Missionary Home. The charge was given by the Rev. George W. Dunn of the Gospel Sowers Church in St. Remy. As the two men knelt at the altar they were set aside by the laying on of hands by the Rev. S. C. Napurano, D.D., the Rev. H. A. Barton, D.D., the Rev. Cornelius C. Sparrow of the Church of Christian Fellowship, the Rev. G. W. Dunn, the Rev. E. Natino and the Rev. A. Osborn. The Rev. Richard MacDonald, S.T.D., made the prayer. The service, which lasted from 3 to 9:30 p. m., was sacred, inspiring and beautiful.

The Rev. Mr. Donaldson has been active in religious work, having obtained a local preacher's license the past two years filling many of the church pulpits in the surrounding villages. He is a member of the Church of the Nazarene on Wiltwyck avenue and also an officer in the church. He has the prayers and well wishes of a host of friends, who have known him through the years.

15 Are Detained By Butte Police After Outbreaks

Butte, Mont., April 17 (AP)—Peace officers held 12 juveniles and three adults and were looking for 30 other teen-agers for questioning today as a week-end outburst of vandalism and house wrecking in this strikebound copper mining city had virtually ended.

Sheriff Al McLeod, his force augmented by 60 special deputies, reported no new disorders last night by groups of vandals such as those which Saturday and Sunday nights wrecked a dozen homes and damaged others belonging to men still working at the Anaconda copper mines.

The C.I.O. Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers condemned the attacks. Company and union officials were scheduled to resume contract negotiations today with Federal Conciliator Robert C. Williams.

Cantine Company Holds Negotiations

At the Martin Cantine Company plant in Saugerties today it was stated that the contract which has been in effect for the past year would expire on May 1 and that negotiations were now under way between company officials and representatives of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers A. F. of L.) to write a new contract.

A spokesman for the company said that "negotiations are in progress" but no intimation as to the status of the negotiations were hinted.

Millions of Yards

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The navy has surplus textiles by the million yards — but no white shirts. It announced today that among items turned over to the war assets administration for civilian sale are 1,100,000 yards of rayon lining for suits and overcoats, 4,188,000 yards of woolens, 8,300,000 yards of cottons, 874,390 raincoats, 5,866,887 chambray workshirts, 5,383,989 utility toursers and 973,212 field shoes.

Roosevelt Tax Is Paid

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—The New York state personal income tax on Franklin D. Roosevelt's 1945 income has been paid by his estate despite an offer by the State Tax Commission for a hearing on the late President's status as a serviceman. New York levies no income tax on a serviceman's income the year of his death. The Roosevelt taxes, it was learned, came in a last-minute flood of returns before the deadline at midnight Monday.

Truman Names Irritant

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman said today it was an admiral in Hawaii who touched off his recent blast against navy lobbying. The President told his news conference he did not think Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, had been doing any lobbying against unification of the armed forces. The admiral who stirred him up, he said, was in charge of the Hawaiian station.

AUTO HITS GIRDER—BRIDGE COLLAPSES

This is what happened when an automobile driven by Russell Craig of Utica, Mich., hit a girder of a 54-year-old bridge there. The 60-foot structure dropped 15 feet pinning the automobile (black arrow) in the debris. Craig escaped with minor injuries. (AP Wirephoto).

LOANS FOR VETERANS

The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks has prepared a pamphlet to explain as clearly as possible guaranteed and insured home loans and the manner in which the savings bank can be of assistance to the returning veteran in obtaining such loans.

The mutual savings banks feel that they have a responsibility to the veteran greater than merely providing assistance to obtain guaranteed loans. The intent of the law is that the veteran should have a satisfactory experience in owning a home and, consequently, the savings banks desire to assist the veteran in such a manner as to be reasonably certain that the ultimate intent of the Act will be attained. When a guaranteed loan is being obtained, the savings bank will want to know in order to protect the veteran that the purchase price does not exceed the reasonable value of the property and that the veteran is not incurring an obligation beyond his ability to carry.

The veteran and members of his family are invited to inquire about these loans at the nearest mutual savings bank.

The government does not make loans to purchase or build homes. The loans are made by mutual savings banks and other lenders. If a veteran has no funds or has insufficient funds to pay the equity money or down payment, the Veterans' Administration guarantees the payment of a part of the loan or insures the loan as a substitute for the equity money or the down payment which the borrower would ordinarily furnish.

This guaranty or insurance is not a gift to the veteran. It is in effect an advance to him to enable him to purchase a home, which must be repaid. The law provides in effect that in the event the Veterans' Administrator pays the guaranty because the veteran fails to do so, the amount paid becomes a debt due by the veteran to the United States and, in the case of his death, by his estate.

Any amount so paid can be deducted from any sums which the government may thereafter owe him. As the law now stands, a veteran should not unwisely use this guaranty because, if he does, eventually he may be called upon to pay any losses to the government under the guaranty. The savings bank would be doing the veteran no favor to arrange a guaranteed loan on a property which is not reasonably worth its purchase price or make him a loan which is beyond his ability to meet.

The law provides that the aggregate guaranty for all purposes for any one veteran shall not exceed $4,000 for real estate loans and $2,000 for non-real estate loans. If he uses his full guaranty credit in buying a home, he cannot then take advantage of the guaranty provision a second time. Thus if he purchases a home and thereafter sells the property, he cannot again purchase a home by means of a guaranteed loan.

BASEBALL SEASON

For some people it's spring when the storm windows come down and the screens go up; for others when the grass has to be cut for the first time or for the farmers when the good earth has to be plowed. And still for others its the backyard vegetable plot or when the children go violet picking or mother airs the mattress.

But the surest sign of all is baseball—the great American game. On the sandlots and in the parks activity is underway and the local semi-pro teams are arranging schedules. Kingston is assured of baseball aplenty with City League completing its rosters and the Recreations booking big leaguers including the Boston Braves, who will appear here Monday, July 8. Then this year Kingston will be represented in the Hudson Valley League. Add to this the high and grammar school schedules and the softball contests and you have a general picture of the king of all sports reigning supreme here this season.

STRIKERS AND VOTES

A campaign to get strikers to register for the fall election is said to be under way. In Cincinnati, according to Newsweek, a C.I.O. organizer found that only 40 per cent of the strikers had registered and thus become eligible to vote. If the effort is really successful, it may alter some of the expected outcomes in the election.

Whether people agree with the strikers or not, they are right in this movement. People who do not vote have no right to criticize if things go wrong.

'These Days'

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF

In the controversy over the unification of the Army and Navy, President Truman again emphasized his title of Commander-in-Chief and took the stance that he having, as Commander-in-Chief, stated his position, his subordinates in the Navy ought to shut up. He seemed to slap down not only Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal but also Admiral Nimitz, who is the professional head of the Navy.

It does not matter so much whether the President is right or wrong about unification, as that his brusque and peremptory attitude was very bad manners. To the country, the opinion of Admiral Nimitz on a technical question concerning the Navy is more valuable than that of the President, who has not established himself as an expert on the subject. The country is troubled because the Army experts and the Navy experts are so positive in their respective views. The President's partisanship does not aid in clarifying this complex and intricate problem. Obviously, the public can have no opinion, because the public does not know the truth. The testimony so far given is so contradictory that the inexpert grows increasingly befuddled.

Yet, it is the inexpert, in Congress and among the voters, who will have to decide. An error now may cost us dearly in the next year. And the state of the world is such that the next war remains in view. This is no time for the type of partisanship the President displayed. It is a time for sober consideration of our prospects of offense, our abilities for defense. Knocking the morale out of the Navy does not help America. Somewhere in this confusion lies the precise truth and telling Admiral Nimitz to shut up does not bring the truth to the surface.

Now, about that commander-in-chief business, certainly the time has come for the President to stick to the title to which he was elected, namely, the Presidency. That requires no embellishment. It is an honorable title that needs no gilding. It adds nothing to the stature of a President to call himself Commander-in-Chief, for he is the latter only because he is the former. Since Grant, no American President, not even those who had been soldiers, were, by training or career, military men of outstanding competence. Certainly not since Theodore Roosevelt has any President been a soldier, except for Mr. Truman's trifling participation in the last war.

Therefore, it becomes ridiculous when the President throws his weight about as Commander-in-Chief. Mr. Roosevelt did it and the Pearl Harbor investigation discloses that it was not to the best advantage of the country. Mr. Truman's current emphasis is particularly unfortunate because he seems to minimize a branch of our armed services which since the days of John Paul Jones has been America's pride.

Neither the services of the airplane nor the use of atomic bomb have convinced Americans that the Navy should be scrapped nor its effectiveness lessened. What men like Admiral Nimitz fear, in amalgamation and unification of the services, is that the Army, which is larger and more numerous, will prevail to such a degree that the effectiveness of the Navy will be lessened to the detriment of the country. Nothing happened during or since the war has convinced Americans that the Navy is through.

In a totalitarian government, the Boss can, of course, do as he chooses. The psychological puzzle, for instance, of the Nuremberg trials is how it was possible for Germans of capacity, ability and training to follow Hitler so blindly. Their answer seems to be that he was the Boss. But, in the United States, there is no Boss. We have no Boss, no leader, no generalissimo. The President is merely an elective official who is required to function within Constitutional limitations during the short period that he is in office. His wartime title of Commander-in-Chief does not change that — nor does it add to that.

Admiral Nimitz ought not to shut up. Nor should anyone. The duty of an American official is to know the truth and who ultimately will have to pass on it.

DON'T GIVE UP A PATIENT

"There is no such thing as a corpse till the funeral. As long as there is blood to pour in and blood vessels to pour it into, a man can be kept alive and reasonably fit while his injuries are repaired if they are reparable."

I am quoting Dr. W. H. Ogilvie, Consulting Surgeon of the British Army in East Africa in Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics.

Most of us think of blood transfusions as the pint or two pints of blood given to a patient who has a bleeding peptic ulcer, but while a pint of blood may save a life in peptic ulcer and even the life of a wounded soldier, there are other cases where many pints of blood are needed and Dr. Ogilvie says this blood should be poured in as long as it is available."

"Wounded men die of hemorrhage, shock or infection; in the first two hours from hemorrhage, in the first two days from shock of which hemorrhage is the chief cause, later from infection." The thought here is that during that first two hours or two days the two causes of death—hemorrhage and shock—may be prevented by pouring in not two pints of blood, but 52 if necessary.

"One soldier had 58 pints of blood and serum poured into him in 4 days; at the end of 10 days, he was in good condition."

As stated above, in the minds of most of us is the pint or two pints at most, that should be all that is necessary and with private patients this costs money but of course the cost is nothing if the life is saved. However Dr. Ogilvie's statement should arouse us to the fact that one to two pints of blood is not "all" we can do, but in some cases only a fraction of what can be done and that as long as there is blood to pour in it should be poured in. Of course in cases where the heart and blood vessels are known to be weak or diseased, pouring in blood would do more harm than good. As, however, not enough blood circulating through the blood vessels is the cause of "heart failure" due to shock, in all cases of severe injury where loss of blood has caused shock, blood transfusions should be continued as long as possible.

Quake Robs Peter, Pays Paul

Bern, (AP)—A series of earth tremors in Switzerland left various repercussions. City engineers of Sitten (Sion) reported that the Lienne brook had doubled its flow of water, increasing the stream's capacity to produce sorely-needed electricity. At Lausanne, residents were not so pleased. The source of the city drinking water was in springs situated where there were vast amounts of lime sulphates. After the quake the water took on a milky hue from the lime deposits.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Save Some Garden Space for Celtuce

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

CELTUCE is a new leafy vegetable worth space in your post-war vegetable garden. It is related to the lettuce family but adapted to more uses.

When plants are young, the leaves may be used as lettuce or as "greens," but its chief delicacy is its central stem or stalk.

When celtuce has matured, remove the lower leaves and the other fibrous coating of the central stem. Split the stem lengthwise, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Then chill it and serve raw with dressing or cook as celery or asparagus. Cooked celtuce stalks have a pleasing, mild flavor.

Celtuce is important as a "health vegetable" for the young leaves have four times the vitamin C content of head-lettuce leaves.

Another new vegetable is Red Tampala, for which there is an increasing vogue among home gardeners. It is a leafy vegetable grown and used as spinach or other greens.

In addition to being different and sweeter in taste than any of the other greens, it also is a health vegetable for it is much higher in vitamin than spinach.

Tampala seed may be sown outdoors as soon as the ground becomes warm. The plants will be five to six inches high and ready to use in six to eight weeks.

When young the entire plant may be used. As it develops break off the clusters of tender leaves at the tips of branches and the plants will continue to produce all summer.

The red coloring which distinguishes Red Tampala is retained when it is cooked thus making the "greens" attractive as well as appetizing.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

With Kingston's first convention of firemen in a number of years slated for July in the city, it is interesting to recall that the Common Council on June 14, 1927, adopted Alderman Leo Clare's resolution that the request of the ten volunteer fire companies in the city be granted, and that the sum of $5,000 be included in the 1928 budget for the purpose of helping defray the expenses in entertaining the 1928 convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association in Kingston.

This year the Ulster County Firemen's Association will hold its convention here, and for the first time since the war years the convention will be climaxed by the big firemen's parade.

The steamer Peter Stuyvesant, the new addition to the fleet of the Hudson River Day Line, made its maiden voyage on the Hudson river on June 7, 1927, when a thousand city officials, prominent railroad and steamship men, and others, were the guests of E. R. Olcott, president of the Day Line.

The new steamer had been added to the Day Line fleet at a cost of nearly a million dollars. The trip that day, from the pier at West 42d street, New York, to Tarrytown, and return to New York, was in the nature of an induction into Hudson river service.

Harry A. Tremper resigned his position as assistant treasurer of the Canfield Supply Co. on June 14, 1927, and planned to embark in business for himself at Fishkill, where he had purchased a stationery store.

Mr. Tremper had been with the Canfield Company for 27 years. While a resident of Kingston he was very active in local Masonic circles, and was a member and past master of Rondout Lodge, No. 343.

He was also active in religious circles and for years was a member of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. He had served as a member and president of the board of trustees of that church.

The three-act comedy, "The Blundering Mr. Brown" was presented by a group of young people of the Rondout Presbyterian Church in the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street, on June 17, 1927.

Among those in the cast were Fred L. Van Deusen, Thomas Rowland, Arthur Scott, Burton Van Deusen, Lilliam Metcalf, Kathleen Meeker, Janet Phillips and Ethel Skelton.

With school taxes in Kingston gradually climbing each year it is interesting to recall that the education board at its meeting June 17, 1927, adopted the school budget, fixing the tax rate at $9.80 per thousand valuation, for 1927-28.

Herbert Carl, widely known Kingston business man, died in his home on Linderman avenue, on June 19, 1927, aged 74 years. He first engaged in business in this city in the 70's when he opened the pioneer department store on North Front street.

As the business gradually increased in volume he was forced to buy additional land, and later erected the present building on North Front street, at the head of Wall street, now occupied by Montgomery, Ward Co.

The new department store, one of the largest in this area, was named the Colossal, and for years was used as a department store under the name of the Herbert Carl Dry Goods Company.

After being in the department store business for many years Mr. Carl sold the business to Rose, Gorman & Rose, and in later years the firm name was changed to Rose & Gorman.

Mr. Carl was an active member of all the Masonic bodies in Kingston, and of Cyprus Temple in Albany. He was also an active member of St. James Methodist Church.

Large Groups of Citizens Will Be Formed to Speak in Behalf of United States Navy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 17—President Truman doesn't like lobbying, but the net effect of his effort to muzzle the navy is to create a bigger pressure group.

Since the navy men themselves cannot speak, large groups of citizens will be formed now to speak for them. The navy's position is that the coordinate branches in our armed services should remain independent units but should be operated by a unified command. That unified command, however, should not be one man but a group consisting of representatives of all the armed services.

Such a group operated during the war and was known as the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. While the system had some defects, it managed to win a war in both the Atlantic and Pacific and whenever the heads of the armed services cannot agree on a plan for the defense of the United States, their views can always be reconciled by the President as the commander-in-chief.

What is objected to at present is the proposal that one man be made supreme commander over the army, navy and air forces. No such authority has ever been given before in the history of the United States in war or in peacetime. Such power over military forces has been assumed in other countries and it has led to military dictatorships.

The citizens who do not favor peacetime conscription, or who are opposed to militarism in any form, will not approve a one-man dictatorship or command of our armed forces. Certainly the power to command the army and navy is vested in an elective leader—namely, in the President of the United States—and is not a power that can be delegated by the President.

The proposed statute would give to one individual command of the entire army, navy and air forces. Such an individual would have to know thoroughly each branch of the service and its strategic operations in order to be able to carry on effectively. During the last war it was not found that any one individual knew enough about all of the branches of the services to command them continuously.

Thus it is popularly believed that General Eisenhower had unified command or command of all armed services in Europe. Such was not the case. He did not command the navy and actually he did not have command of the air forces, though he could call for their assistance whenever he needed them. In other words, the air forces operated on their own most of the time.

In the Pacific, there was no single commander who had control of or command over all the forces operating against Japan. General MacArthur was supreme in his region and Admiral Nimitz was supreme in his area. Whatever mistakes were made in the Pacific were due to the fact that Navy admirals tried to tell Army generals or generals tried to tell admirals how to run their respective services. It would seem desirable to study thoroughly these mistakes because they do not lead to mergers and unified commands but they really lead to a set-up of small staffs at lower levels of command which can work out problems on the spot. When irreconcilable differences appear these can be resolved by the U. S. joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

What seems so strange about the emphasis given the merger proposal is that it really does not relate to operational matters at all. It has been advocated as a means of saving money and economizing in procurement and other administrative aspects of the War and Navy Departments. These can be achieved through civilian cooperation and have very little relationship to actual command in the armed services.

What is really needed is a comprehensive study of the defense and security problems of the United States. Once the top men in our military services have decided on a comprehensive defense plan, the question of allocating commands can be taken up as conditions change. The virtue of the U. S. joint chiefs of staffs was that it allocated tasks to particular commanders, realizing that conditions were not the same in all theatres of war. This method of handling the war was successful and there is no good reason for changing it now. The important thing is to make sure that the top men in the Army, the Navy and the Air Forces are broad-gauged individuals who can be expected to sit around a table in the meetings of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff and resolve questions effectively. Two heads are better than one and three heads are better than one. The U. S. joint chiefs of staff was a success, and no argument has been advanced that would warrant the placing command of all our armed services in one man—a subordinate of the President.

NEW DEAL FIGURES

From time to time I have pointed out the way the Administration boys sling figures around. The New Dealers in F.D.R.'s time were reckless enough, God knows, but well meaning Harry Truman carries recklessness to a point where he is just asking for the kickback.

You recall the figures he tried to sell the American housewife about a three per cent or so advance in the cost of living, with some items actually supposed to be costing less now. Now comes Harry's man Snyder with the great big sugar-candied assurance that more—far more—civilian goods are actually being produced and distributed right now than ever before, although you can't get a white shirt, or a pair of stockings, or a pound of butter, or a stick of lumber, or a farm tractor or a washing machine. If more goods are being made and distributed today than ever before in the history of these United States, would you tell us, Mr. Snyder, who is getting them? We are not.

But for just straight, "caught-in-the-act" misuse of figures until they squeal in protest, take the President's fast-and-loose assertion made in support of the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill for nationalized medicine. Truman said that since six million men and women were rejected from the draft because of physical disability, the need for government applied and financed medical care was evident. Now, the true figures were given out by none other than the great and good friend of socialized medicine and socialized everything else, plus the Russianized atom bomb: namely, Senator Claude E. Pepper of Florida, and potentially of the American Soviet. Here the the "Red Pepper's" figures: total 4 Fs—4,217,000. The difference between that and Harry's six million is roughly fifteen per cent, which is enough percentage of error to make any business go broke, or to lose any war. That's just the beginning!

Pepper gives us a breakdown on the 4,217,000: 443,800 (nearly a half million) lacked one or two which would hardly have been healed by government medicine. More of these unfortunates would have been helped by regulations preventing the mixing of gasoline and alcohol and safety measures, than by any medical therapy! Now comes a big lot, totalling 1,283,800—rejects because of mental disease and deficiency. But mental therapy does not come within the province of the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill. Just how can Pappy Harry run in the 1,283,800 mental defectives to prove our need for government medicine?

After subtracting the above groups, we have remaining 2,429,500 physical defectives, 295,000 of this number were rejected for cases of syphilis and gonorrhoea beyond the straightening-out treatment given most cases found in draftees. But government clinics already exist in every state in the union for venereal disease treatment, so Wagner, Murray and Dingle needn't worry about them. Subtracting them, we have left 2,130,500 out of the between 11 and 12 million draftees who might have been helped by Wagner-Murray-Dingle nationalized medical arrangements, had these been in existence before the war. That is about sixteen per cent.

Counting the entire number of 4 F's, the United States armed forces, with the highest physical requirements in the world, rejected 37 per cent of its draftees. (The largest group being dithery people mentally). Britain, with nationalized medicine since 1912, rejected 50 per cent on much lower standards. We now know that the German army found just about the same low state of public health as that found in Britain. (Germany was the original "inventor" of nationalized public care).

Regardless of the merits or demerits of the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill, President Truman really ought to make healthier additions and subtractions. These kind are too readily checked up on, and the end result is not healthy for the Administration.

George K. Snyder, local sales manager of the National Biscuit Company, has announced that all employes of the company in the Poughkeepsie area, which includes Ulster county, will share in the benefits of a comprehensive pension plan effective May 1. Employes here are eligible to participate along with some 23,000 employes and officers of the company and its Canadian subsidiaries.

The company will stand for the entire expense, employes are given full credit for all years of continuous service and pensions will be based on the last 10 years of service prior to retirement. The plan makes retirement compulsory at the age of 65, with a credit of one per cent for each year of continuous service.

Minimum Salary Is Set

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Legislation setting a $1,600 minimum annual salary for school teachers in cities of not more than 150,000 was signed today by Governor Dewey. The bill also provides that the minimum shall be paid in school districts employing eight or more instructors. To apply only for the 1946-47 school year, the measure adds that no salary or annual salary increment shall be reduced because of the new legislation. Present salary schedules provide various base pay grades, and the effect of the bill is to raise the pay of about 500 teachers now getting less than $1,600.

Three Boys Are Burned To Death During Play

New York, April 17 (AP)—Three boys, playing "Buffalo Bill" in an abandoned chicken coop they used as a "frontier post," were burned to death late yesterday.

The charred bodies were found after the fire was extinguished.

The boys were Donald Ostrander, six, Thomas Kenney and Thomas White, both seven. Police said they apparently built a bonfire in the coop.

McMahon Says He Expects Action

Preliminary Survey Cited as Good; Fessenden Drive Reported

International organizers of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union reported today that a preliminary survey of un-organized shirt and pajama workers in this city revealed that local workers will join in increasing numbers the already organized 350,000 cotton garment workers.

The assertion was made by Frank McMahon, local representative, at a meeting of Amalgamated officials and representatives workers of local factories last night at A.C.W.U. headquarters.

The Amalgamated last night announced an intensive drive to unionize all un-organized shirt workers in the city, starting with the Fessenden Company. The drive already is under way.

Representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers stated that the un-organized "open shop" principle of certain Kingston shops is out-dated by 10 years, and that workers in these shops have a right to the benefits now enjoyed by unionized shops in Kingston and vicinity.

Citing organization campaigns now being conducted in Kingston, and the success of the King Dress workers in achieving pay increases, Amalgamated Clothing Workers representatives said they were convinced the people of Kingston are rapidly becoming union-minded.

The Amalgamated also dispatched a letter of congratulations to Jacob Schneider, manager of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, complimenting the organization on the successful negotiations for a pay hike for King employes.

Demonstrate Judo for Cops

85 Persons Attend Training School For Police Officers

First Meeting Is Opened by Sheriff Smith at Court House; Film Shown

The first session of the basic In-service Training School for law enforcement officers of Ulster and Greene counties opened auspiciously at the Ulster county court house Tuesday night, with a registration of 85 members of various branches of service.

The school is to extend through eight weeks, with sessions on Tuesday night of each week.

Sheriff George C. Smith of Ulster county opened the session at 7:30 expressing his gratification at the fine response to invitations that had been issued. He introduced Chief of Police Phinney of Kingston, Sheriff Milton O. Bailey of Greene county and Major Thomas J. Hanlon, superintendent of the Napanoch Institution.

The Sheriff then turned the meeting over to Louis Hurley, special F.B.I. agent.

Mr. Hurley said that the present school was being sponsored by the Sheriffs Asosciation and the Chiefs of Police Association of New York state, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation cooperating, as a longrange educational program for law enforcement officers. Another school will be held this fall and it is planned to hold spring and fall schools in 1947.

Mr. Hurley explained the rules and regulations governing the schools. He asked for punctual and regular attendance at the sessions and stated that two, but not more, absences would be excused if necessary. At the final session on June 4 diplomas will be issued to all who have earned them. Without these diplomas registrants may not enter the school to be held next fall.

Sheriff Smith announced that Carlton Taylor of Port Ewen would serve as director of the school during the present sessions.

The first part of the program was devoted to the showing of a very interesting film, illustrating the techniques and mechanics of arrests, with accompanynig lecture. The picture showed the proper methods of making arrests, searching prisoners and handling them after arrests; also errors to be avoided by law enforcement officers in carrying out their duties.

Judo Is Demonstrated

The second part of the program for the evening was a demonstration of ju-jitsu, also known as jiu-jitsu and judo, given by Special Agents Robert Deneen and David Jenkins of the F.B.I.

Agent Jenkins gave a brief history of this art of self-defense without weapons, which depends upon knowledge and skill as opposed to brute strength. It was stated that the art was developed by Chinese monks during the 12th century as a protection against nomads and robbers. Later the Japanese, on occasion of one of their invasions, learned the technique and took it back home with them, calling it the "gentle art of self-defense."

Agent Jenkins said that the art had been introduced into this country but had not become generally popular with Americans. However, it was largely used during the World War and was known as 'hand-to-hand combat."

It was explained that skillful use of ju-jitsu depends upon a knowledge of anatomy and the numerous vulnerable points in the human body were pointed out to the audience.

The two experts then proceeded to give a complete demonstration of the many blows, holds and falls that are available for self-defense; also numerous ways in which a person attacked can disarm his attacker, providing he has attained the necessary skill and practice. Some of these blows can easily prove fatal, while others are crippling in different degrees.

Among Those Attending

Various police departments and enforcement agencies were represented at the first session of the school. In addition to Sheriff Milton O. Bailey and members of his staff of Greene county, the Catskill Police Department was represented. Officers Floyd Smith and Wililam Rightmyer were present from the Saugerties department; Officers Frank Groppe and Abraham Rand from the Ellenville Police Department and Chief of Police Phinney and Lieutenant Stoudt were among representatives of the Kingston Police Department.

The Ulster county sheriff's office registered 37, with Sheriff Smith and members of his immediate staff, deputies and special deputies. The Napanoch Institution had a delegation of 18 officers and guards, headed by Major Thomas J. Hanlon. The Wallkill Prison had four officers in attendance; Guy R. Milroy of the Kingston office of the Conservation Department and three game protectors were registered, as were members of the New York Board of Water Supply Police and several town constables.

Broadway and at 6-10 Thomas street was known for years as the Diamond premises and has been owned by Frank Spadafora, who now transfers title to Mr. Rafalowsky. Included in the transfer is the Thomas street property which now houses the Astor Bar and Grill of which William J. Clare is proprietor.

Mr. Rafalowsky stated that included in the sale was all of the equipment and furnishings of the Astor Bar and Grill. On the upper floors of the building are located seven apartments. Mr. Rafalowsky stated that when he learned the premises were being offered for sale by Mr. Spadafora, he had entered into negotiations for the purchase of the property primarily so that he could continue to occupy the store where his business has been located for the past 16 years. He will take possession of the property next week.

"For the past 31 years I have been engaged in business on central Broadway between the point where the Kingston Trust Company is now located and my present location," said Mr. Rafalowsky who has been one of the principal boosters for the Central Broadway Business Men's organization, and he said he had decided to purchase the building in order that he might continue to conduct his men's clothing business in that section of the city which has been "home" to him so long.

a lot on the McSpirit farm and John Walker, son of Milton Walker, captured the animal.

The attention of Sheriff Smith had been called to the roaming animal on Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of the town of Ulster who has received complaints from market garden operators that their crops were being destroyed.

Sheriff Smith sent Deputy Sheriff Ellsworth to make an investigation and Mr. Harries told the officer that he was sending for aid to one of the local horse stables to round up the animal. However it was the "posse" of local residents which finally took the animal in tow.

Last night peace and quiet reigned in the neighborhood but after the horse had been restored to its owner it broke loose and this morning was again on the rampage.

Milton Walker and John Modica called at the court house this morning and again sought assistance of the sheriff. Sheriff Smith and Deputy Ellsworth again visited the scene and found the horse again on the loose. An interview with the owner brought forth the information that the horse might be shot.

Sheriff Smith and his deputy returned to the court house and loaded up with high powered guns, ready to set forth on the hunt again. However, later a horse dealer was contacted who agreed to try his luck at capturing the animal alive.

At the time of going to press that arrangement appeared to have been in force and it appeared as though the frisky black and white pinto might live to become a useful horse again.

Residents of the neighborhood complained to the sheriff that the horse in its mad flights had damaged a considerable amount of garden truck which had been planted. John Modica was one who complained that the horse had rolled in his lettuce beds and various other kinds of vegetables were allegedly damaged by the animal.

During the chase Tuesday afternoon the horse was tracked from the low foot hills of the Catskills to the flat-lands of the Esopus creek until finally cornered in a fence on the McSpirit farm where it was roped.

Incidentally Milton Walker's dog, which took part in the chase yesterday, was suffering from two badly blackened eyes which were the price of getting too close to the flying heels of the horse during the chase.

tioning was inaugurated, the average for civilian supplies was 136 pounds annually.

Lehman, speaking at a food mass meeting here last night, differed sharply with administration estimates that the overseas famine crisis would pass in 90 days. "We must assume," he declared, "that next winter's food situation will be as bad as the present—it would be sheer madness to accept any other conclusion."

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, in a simultaneous address before the United Nations forum, said announcement of a wheat rationing program now "would probably be the most severe blow that could be dealt to the cause of relief feeding around the world."

He noted that it would take months to put rationing into operation, and meanwhile the effect might be the hoarding of wheat rather than the freeing of it.

U. N. Turns Now To Polish Charge Of Nazis in Spain

Warm Debate Expected Over Anti-Franco Move; Bonnet Promises Talk

New York, April 17 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council turned today from the undecided Iranian case to the highly controversial question posed by Poland's charge that Franco Spain harbors Nazi war plotters and menaces world peace.

New support for the anti-Franco movement, indicated a warm debate when the Council meets at 3 p. m.

As the delegate of a nation which is a nextdoor neighbor of Spain, Ambassador Henri Bonnet of France said he expected to make a "lengthy" argument which observers believed might be based partly on unofficial charges by Spanish Republican leaders exiled in Paris. The latter says that Francisco Franco has 450,000 troops manned threateningly along the French frontier.

Since Poland lodged her charges last week that Spain was protecting and promoting German scientists engaged in "devising new means of warfare," unofficial sources have come forward with the assertion stoutly denied by Spain—that these scientists are engaged in atomic research.

The first official notice of the reference to atomics was taken by the Spanish cabinet in its blanket denial of the Polish and other accusations. The cabinet charged that the Polish proposals against Spain were part of a world-wide Communist campaign against the Franco regime.

The Polish demand for some sort of collective Council action to throttle and ultimately depose Franco finds the Council sharply split along new lines. Polish delegate Oscar Lange was ready to lead off against Franco with indications of strong support of Russia, France, Mexico and probably Australia, and with the stand-by backing of the Spanish Republicans-in-exile represented by an observer, Dr. Fernando De Los Rios.

The United States, Britain and Brazil, while willing to give the charges a hearing, have maintained that relations with Franco Spain should be determined by individual nations rather than concerted Council action.

Could Defeat Proposal

Since Poland needs seven affirmative votes to effect Council action, the United States, Britain and Brazil could defeat Lange's proposal by lining up two votes from among Egypt, the Netherlands and China, which have given no indication of their intentions.

China never has had relations with Franco Spain, while Egypt and the Netherlands remain among the nations Franco still classifies as "friendly."

However, prolonged debate is indicated before a vote can be reached, and the council may defer a final decision on the Spanish issue in order to bring up the Iranian question again. Russia's demand for dismissal of the Iranian case was put over at least until Thursday, when a committee of experts will give a guiding opinion on Secretary-General Trygve Lie's statement yesterday questioning the legality of keeping the Russian-Iranian question on the agenda.

The Spanish problem involves a nation barred from U.N. membership and at least one accuser—the Spanish Republican exiled group—which is not generally recognized as a government. There is the possibility that the council might invite both to be represented by witnesses.

Franco already has invited those nations represented on the council who maintain "friendly" relations with Spain to send investigators to see whether Germans are working on atomics in Spain.

Kansas City, April 17 (AP)—Anybody need a machinegun turret—without a machinegun?

They're ideal for rumpus rooms, says Louis Goldfinger, junk dealer who has 200 of the $12,750 turrets for sale at $35 to $50. Goldfinger describes his merchandise as "something really different to entertain guests. Just hook one up to a battery and it works."

Askov, Minn., April 17 (AP)—A recent double wedding ceremony here was strictly a family affair.

Mr. and Mrs. William Groth were married in the double ceremony at which the bride's mother and bridegroom's father also were wed. That made Mrs. Groth's mother also her mother-inlaw, and Groth's father also his father-in-law.

The bridesmaid was a sister of one bride and a daughter of the other. The best man was a brother of one bridegroom and a son of the other.

Sweet Decision

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Stoeckel, 42, was awarded a half pound of butter and nine pounds of sugar by Superior Judge Edwin A. Robson.

Her husband, Herman, 44, claimed the sugar and butter as part of the possessions they divided after Mrs. Stoeckel filed a suit for separate maintenance.

Parking Meter Disappears

Newark, N. J., April 16 (AP)—Police scratched their heads in puzzlement today over the latest twist in thievery. Someone had stolen a parking meter and post, first such theft in more than a decade of parking meter history in Newark. The meter and post are valued at $60, but the meters are emptied of their nickels three times a day and therefore the best haul a thief could expect would be 40 cents.

Central Hudson Builds New Lines

Electricity, like everything else, went to war and has just returned to civilian life. After five years of war, the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., once again can resume improving its service to the people of Woodstock, Bearsville, Shady, Coldbrook, Lake Hill, Willow, Ideal Park, Wittenberg and the surrounding areas, according to District Manager E. T. Strong, of the Kingston office.

"During the war," Mr. Strong said, "Many people went without electricity simply because necessary materials and skilled labor were not available to supply new users. A tremendous increase of both summer visitors and permanent residents has multiplied the number of people using electricity to the point where present lines are loaded to capacity. If the past five years had been normal, new lines would have constantly been added to meet the demands of the public.

"Forty thousand dollars are now being spent to meet the needs of the consumers of this area," Mr. Strong added. "A new cable is being run from Woodstock Village to the Woodstock Substation, in order to provide more electricity for more people. Another cable is being added between the Woodstock Substation and the Kingston Road, while still another line is being run between Bearsville and Glenford. These lines are the foundations and this work must be completed to adequately serve existing and additional customers.

"These new lines also mean better service for those who have electricity and use it for cooking, water heating, pumping, lighting and all the other uses which make country life so pleasant. Customers served by the Woodstock Substation will now have electricity coming from two directions where formerly it came from only one. By the addition of these new lines, electricty now may be routed around almost any area where trouble might occur. In the past, where electric lines ran through wooded areas, it was possible for winter winds and summer storms to uproot trees or deposit branches on the lines with consequent interruption to the service of large areas until the trouble could be cleared. With these improvements, the areas interrupted in the future will be much smaller, and the interruption will be of shorter duration.

"Keeping up with the latest developments in electrical research and to further protect the system, automatic breaker switches are being installed to automatically clear the lines of minor damage which in the past would have meant a break in service until the damage could be cleared.

"With the number of summer visitors and permanent residents increasing and the new Thruway promising more people, the demand for electricity has grown by leaps and bounds. The new cables and the strengthening of the system means that in the very near future, the company will be able to supply more new customers and provide better service for the old," Mr. Strong concluded.

Lecture Here on Christian Science

H. P. Nunn Is Speaker at High School Auditorium

Herschel P. Nunn, C.S.B. of Portland, Oregon, member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture on Christian Science at the Kingston High School Auditorium Tuesday evening. He spoke in part as follows:

Many a young soldier and many a young sailor in our armed forces today is thanking God for an understanding of Christian Science. Unless these young men were conscious of a very present God, an available God, a good God, an all-knowing God, an all-loving God, they would not find the healing and protection which they find in turning to Him in their hour of great need. But that is the God they have learned to know in their study of Christian Science, a God that is "of purer eyes than to behold evil," a God that is the principle and substance of their being, "with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by the reversed Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, you will find that this word "Principle" is one of the seven synonyms for God which Mrs. Eddy uses in the definition of God on page 465 of this textbook: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." She says on this same page that these terms are synonymous and that "they refer to one absolute God. They are also intended to express the nature, essence and wholeness of Deity." To think of God as Principle brings wonderful comfort, because if God the creator of the universe is known as the divine Principle of His universe then we can think of God as conscious only of that which is in entire accord with His divine nature. Whatever is not in accord with God, good, is not the creation of God. This fact removes forever the possibility of evil of any name or nature having existence in His universe.

Through the inspiration of their Leader, Mrs. Eddy, Christian Scientists have been provided with a much cherished weekly Lesson-Sermon, made up of references from the King James Version of the Holy Bible and correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook. Thus the purity of Christian Science is preserved and human opinion excluded. These Lessons are provided for them in a publication known as the Christian Science Quarterly. Through the prayerful study of this Lesson during the week and the resulting daily application, Christian Scientists come to their churches on Sunday so well prepared to listen to the reading of it that beautiful spiritual unfoldment of new meanings in their two textbooks often comes to them there. Careful study of the Bible and the Christian Science textbook brings to students throughout the world, day by day and every day, spiritual illumination, healing, growth in character, peace, and assurance. This daily study of the Lesson brings spiritual refreshment every morning, increases our mental alertness, and establishes our day in "the secret place of the most High."

The cantata is arranged in two parts recalling simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the life of Jesus on the earth. The first part tells the story of the rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the city, the scene in the temple, and the lonely walk back over the mount at night. Part 2 opens with the supper of the Passover at which Jesus washes His disciples' feet, gives His friends the new commandment of love for one another. STRANGERS NOT INVITED TO SHOWERS

The "shower" described in the following letter seems to me a threatening custom that should be checked before it develops further: "I have just received an invitation to a shower in honor of a young woman I hardly know, certainly not to the extent of being asked to contribute several dollars toward buying her an important present! Neither am I a personal friend of anyone in her family nor do I know the man or his family. I do not feel able to accept this invitation, but I am wondering whether I am supposed to do anything about contributing. On the several occasions I have been invited to showers for my personal friends, I always have sent present just the same, because I wanted to. At the same time I have imagined it was expected always. What is your advice in the case of this new experience?"

The spirit of a shower is nothing like this. The chief pleasure of it is the displaying of a lot of packages and the fun of opening them. This asking for a sum of money like a contribution to a benefit is to me very unpleasant and certainly not a shower. Although it is not expected that one unable to go to the shower should send a present, the occasions when you have chosen to do so were all right, but to send a present to a stranger would be absurd—and a contribution still more so.

'Y' Leagues Hold Annual Banquet

Here are some of the officials and guests of the Y.M.C.A. Mercantile and Federation Bowling Leagues who attended the annual post-season banquet at the "Y" Tuesday night. Seated in the front row are Burt Tandy, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.; Clarence Rowland, guest speaker; Roy Van Bramer, president of the Mercantile Bowling League; Ray Roux, newly-elected president of the loop, and Harry Gray, president of the Federation League. In the back row are Paul Zucca, Danny Bittner, Vernon Freese, secretary of the Kingston Bowling Association; the Rev. W. W. Williams and Ted Young, chairman of the Y.M.C.A. bowling committee. (Freeman Photo).

Ray Roux Is Elected President Of Y.M.C.A. Mercantile League

Succeeds Roy Van Bramer at Elections Held on Tuesday at Annual Post-Season Party

Ray Roux, leading kegler of the Fuller bowling team, was elected president of the 1946-47 Y.M.C.A. Mercantile Bowling League Tuesday night following the regular post-season banquet of the combined Mercantile and Federation Leagues at the local "Y" building. Roux will succeed Roy Van Bramer who was president during the 1945-46 campaign. Sam Hayes was voted vice president of the loop while Ed Bock and Lou Schafer were named recording and corresponding secretaries. Ernie LeFever was elected treasurer to succeed himself.

A large delegation of both the Y.M.C.A. Mercantile and Federation circuits turned out for last night's annual affair. Following a roast beef supper, awards to the various bowlers and teams were made. Group singing, led by Paul Zucca and Danny Bittner, was enjoyed.

Clarence Rowland, speaking on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. was the only guest speaker on the program Tuesday night and in a few choice words expressed his sincere appreciation to the bowlers of the two loops for their assistance during the past season.

Freese Makes Awards

Vernon Freese, retiring secretary of the Kingston Bowling Association, followed on the program after Mr. Rowland and presented the A.B.C. medals to the bowlers of the two leagues on behalf of the K.B.A. Those receiving medals were Ferris Williams, Ray Roux, Stan Winne. Harold "Chicken" Smith and Austin Hitchcock finished the year with high games of 247 and Secretary Freese presented the medal for this score to President Harry Gray. According to K.B.A. rules only one medal is awarded in case of a tie and the association secretary pointed out that the two bowlers could meet in a playoff to determine the eventual winner.

Secretary Freese lauded the Mercantile and Federation circuits for their successful season and expressed hope that the two loops would return next season to assist in the rebuilding of bowling as one of Kingston's top sports. Freese also spoke of Stan Winne's sensational single of 278 which was rolled on the "Y" alleys at the end of the campaign.

Winners in the twin loops this year were Clinton Avenue 1 and Presbyterian 1 in the Federation Leagues and Everett and Treadwell and Ertels in the Mercantile. Captains of these squads were presented appropriate awards.

Church Stars Win

Following the presentation of awards, a number of movies were shown by Tommy Bashall.

In a special bowling match following the banquet the Federation Church League All Stars scored a 150-pin victory over the Mercantile All Stars. Williams, Post, Smith, Morris and Burr worked for the winners while Vining, Maylahn, Shellhammer, Hitchcock and Bartroff rolled for the losing club.

Averages of the Federation and Mercantile Leagues will be published in the near future.

Wins Veteran's Play

New York, April 17 (AP)—Lieut. Col. Willard K. Rice of the Harvard Club won the national veteren's squash tennis championship last night, defeating Joseph T. P. Sullivan of the Yale Club, 15-6, 15-11, in the finals. It was Rice's first appearance in a national tournament.

Penalty for Jumpers

Cincinnati, April 19 (AP)—Baseball players who jumped their American contracts to play in foreign leagues have been suspended for at least five years by Commissioner A. D. Chandler.

Train Reservations To Louisville Big Prize at Jamaica

Small Batch of Ducats Will Go to Winners of Wood Memorial on Saturday

New York, April 17 (AP)—There'll be something like a $22,000 pay check waiting at the finish of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday, but most of the gee-gees trying for it will be more interested in a small batch of railroad tickets going to the gallopers who hurry home the quickest.

These, naturally, are for lowers on the Louisville Limited reaching Churchill Downs on May 4, and while there may be as many as 15 three-year-olds answering the starter's "come on now" for the Wood, Saturday, the glamour boys in the lot are about a dozen who'll be shooting for that Kentucky Derby train ride.

Nine of these eligibles for the roses, are virtually definite starters in the top eastern derby prep which this year has a $25,000 added price tag and gives the hayburners their first chance to run a mile-and-a-sixteenth. Packing the derby load of 126 pounds.

Three Head List

Heading this set are the three who already have just about sewed up train reservations, Hampden, Assault and Islam Prince along with Laddie Sanford's flaming winner of last winter, Round View, and Al Ernst's Alamond, who clicked in the experimental last Saturday under a 106-pound feather, but was no Man O'War doing it.

In addition, there'll be those getting a last shot to prove if they should get the trip, or, should stay home and listen to the derby on the radio. One of these is the sometimes flashy Florida campaigner of last winter, Cedar Creek, from the Warrenton, Va., barn of Walter Chrysler.

The ithers are the recent flop-eroos, Marine Victory and Mist O'Gold, out to make up for their collapsible cantering in the experimental.

Still another will be the tall, tan Alworth, owned by Mrs. R. D. Patterson of Dayton, Ohio, who saved yesterday's showing of five derby eligibles at Jamaica from being one of the fanciest busted bubbles of the spring.

When Nominees

While such well-supported nominees as Windfields and Lycos looked as if they needed an outboard motor apiece, Alworth came winging up the stretch in one half of the Jamaica Handicap to wind up a good fourth to William Woodward's flashy filly Bonnie Beryl, and thereby indicates he'd enjoy more room to run in.

The hottest part of the Wood will see Hampden and Assault fighting it out for the distinction of going to the derby as the fair-haired boy from these parts.

The Delaware Dandy and the Texas Flier each won his only local outing as if he owned the race track and the boys hereabouts practically come to blows arguing their merits in the local soda shops.

Snyder and Party Back From Florida

Bill Young Catches 50½ Pound Dolphin

County Clerk Robert A. Snyder has returned from a two weeks vacation trip to West Palm Beach, Florida, where he, Fred Van Voorhis and William Young, also of Saugerties, spent a portion of the time deep-sea fishing.

All of the fisherman report good luck but Mr. Young landed the prize catch, a 50½ pound dolphin which measured five feet six and three quarters in length.

The dolphin, while not so long as others caught off Palm Beach this season, was entered in the fishing contest because if its unusual weight and Palm Beach fisherman were of the opinion that Mr. Young would capture one of the coveted prizes.

Stirnweiss appeared here in Kingston during the winter months at the Y.M.C.A. as one of the guest speakers during the Baseball Night program. Manager Davi reported to The Freeman that he has signed a number of players for his Waterbury club and added that he expects to be back up north within a few more days.

Two Night Tilts Set for Stadium Grounds This Year

Port Meets Locals Here Under Lights May 29; First Home Game Set for May 3

The Kingston High School baseball team will open its 1946 season at Arlington next Wednesday afternoon, April 24 in the first of 13 games, it was announced today. Kingston's first home game will be Friday afternoon, May 3, when the Middies from Middletown appear at the municipal stadium in the first DUSO League tilt of the year.

Three Night Games

Something new has been added to the Maroon and White schedule this year when Coach Pete Hatch announced that three night attractions would be played by his charges this year. The first arc-light clash is scheduled for Monday, May 20, at Newburgh under the lights which will be used by the Hummingbirds of the North Atlantic League. Following this tile two after-dark games are slated for the local uptown ball orchard. The first is set for Wednesday, May 29 with Port Jervis furnishing the opposition and the second on Friday, June 7, when the Goldbacks from Newburgh appear here.

In announcing the scheduling of the night contests, Coach Hatch told newsmen "The fans have been asking for night games for three years since I've been coach. Well, now we're giving them just what they wanted, and I hope the fans will support us."

One of the biggest Maroon turnouts for baseball responded to the first call by Coach Hatch some weeks ago when 128 players reported for action. Although the squad will be sliced to about 40 very soon, which means a big pruning is due soon, this turnout proves that local interest in baseball is improving.

Since the municipal stadium has not been available for practice, Coach Hatch and Coach Cliff Miller, recently returned from the armed forces, have been watching their charges cavort about the diamonds at Hasbrouck and Barmann Parks. The recent cold wave has cut practice down to a minimum but the Maroon tossers have been getting plenty of drills even though somewhat limited.

Six Lettermen Back

Six lettermen are among the candidates reporting for duty this year while there are several more who have had some baseball experience. The returning lettermen are Bill Crosby, last year's varsity first baseman; George Glaser, promising infielder from last year; "Tex" Brown, due to become Pete Hatch's No. 1 hurler; "Red" Gorsline, hard-hitting outfielder; Dick Dulin, sophomore outfielder who earned a regular job when a freshman; and Ken Lowe, promising fly-chaser of last year.

Several others who saw some action last season and who may be in line for a regular post this year are Ed Weaver, Don Rice, Chris Lay, Paul Kaman and Tom Fay. Weaver, just through with his winter work with the basketball team, is looked upon as a darkhorse to beat out Crosby for the initial sack job. Rice is a hard-hitting outfielder, while Lay is listed as a catcher, and Kaman in the infield category.

The 1946 Maroon schedule follows:

Date	Opponent	Place
April 24	Arlington	Arlington
April 27	N.Y.M.A.	N.Y.M.A.
May 3	*Middletown	Kingston
May 10	*Port Jervis	Port Jervis

His Bitter Memory

There we stood before the parting,
'round my neck her arms she threw,
And I saw that tears were starting from her dreamy eyes so blue.
My caress did not relieve her,
my heart pained me, I confess,
When I knew I had to leave her—
forty dollars—fo. a dress.

Boss—Do you believe in life after death?

Office Boy—Yes sir.

Boss—Then everything is in order. After you had gone for the afternoon yesterday, to bury your Grandfather, he came in here to see you.

An Australian tried to enlist at Sydney. He was refused on account of his bad feet. Next morning he presented himself once more before the Doctor:

Doctor—It's no use; I can't take you. You couldn't stand the marching. But why are you so darned insistent?

Australian—Well, Doc, I walked 185 miles to get here, and I hate like hell to have to walk back.

Today

Dream not too much of what you'll do tomorrow,
How well perhaps you'll work another year;
Tomorrow's chance you do not need to borrow—
Today is here.

Mess Sergeant—You're not eating your fish. What's wrong with it?

Buck Private—Long time no sea.

Whoever is open, loyal, true; of humane and affable demeanor; honorable himself, and in his judgement of others; faithful to his word as to law, and faithful alike to God and man—such a man is a true gentleman.

Miss Brown—My dear, he's too eligible to be considered old.

Few New Autos Are Received Here Says Rail Office

Very few of the new automobiles that are now rolling off the assembly lines are being received in Kingston, at least over the West Shore railroad, it was said today at the freight office.

Yesterday a freight car loaded with four new automobiles was unloaded. During March and so far in April but a few new cars, mostly Studebakers, Plymouths and Chryslers, have been unloaded at the freight yard here.

These new cars, it is understood, are mostly being received to be used as demonstrators by automobile dealers, and very few are being received for delivery to customers as yet.

What new Ford cars that have arrived in the city, it was said, were being driven in from Albany.

A new midget fire extinguisher, 9 inches high and weighing 10 ounces can do the work of more than two one quart extinguishers weighing 8 pounds.

Iturbi's Daughter Reported Suicide In Father's Home

Woman, 28, Is Found on Bedroom Floor, Her Hair Afire; Gives Version

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 17 (AP)—A revolver wound in the temple brought to an end today the strife-ridden life of Maria Iturbi Hero, 28-year-old daughter of the concert pianist, Jose Iturbi.

She was found by her father, lying on the floor of his bedroom, her hair afire, a .32 caliber gun near her outstretched arm. She died two hours later in a hospital, as brain specialists admitted there was nothing they could do to save her.

Iturbi, near collapse, was at her bedside. Her two daughters, center of years of court battles with her father and her former husband, remained at home with their nurse.

Det.-Sgt. Arthur H. McBain, calling the shooting "clearly a case of suicide," said Iturbi told him he returned home shortly before midnight and was playing the piano in his drawing room when he heard a shot.

Rushing upstairs, he found his daughter sprawled by a bed. Extinguishing the flames in her brunette hair, he called an ambulance.

Miss Iturbi, a slim, Latin girl then 18, was married in Bedford Hills, N. Y., in 1936 to Stephan Hero, 20, a violinist. Their two daughters are Maria Teresa, 9, and Maria Antonia 8.

In 1939, she filed suit for separation in New York, alleging non-support. The following year ,a settlement was reached, giving Hero custody of the children for three months a year.

She and the children arrived here in 1941, and a few months later she was awarded full custody, in connection with a suit for divorce.

But in 1943, her father petitioned for their custody, terming his daughter "not the proper person" to have their charge. An out-of-court settlement later reaffirmed her custody, on condition that the children live in the pianist's home.

tainly be denounced as a crackpot or a Communist—or both.

"Yet for Congress to heed those who now advocate a serious curtailment of O.P.A.'s powers would be to invite an inflation which would impose just such a levy."

Porter also made these assertions:

"The problem is to get production without starting up the inflation which would soon choke off the vast outpouring of goods we need."

"Decontrol (of) all but a few basic commodities * * * is a job which would be both grotesquely unfair and economically impossible."

Misinforming Congress

"There are some industries which are misinforming Congress and misleading the American people" about the effects of O.P.A. control.

"We already have a serious black market (lumber) problem on our hands—especially in southern lumber. * * * we have broken such rackets before and we shall break this one."

"Admittedly there is a black market in meat. * * * but the suggestion that we lick the black market by dropping controls sounds to be like suggestions that we avoid traffic violations by repealing our traffic regulations."

Coykendall House Will Be Purchased By Len, Contractor

Joe Len, widely known building contractor of Albany avenue, has contracted to purchase the residence property of the late S. D. Coykendall on West Chestnut street.

The big house has been vacant for a number of years. It is a three-story brick structure surmounted by a brick turret, and for years had been one of the show places of Kingston.

An effort to get in touch with Mr. Len this morning was futile, but a member of his family stated that he was not prepared to state definitely what he proposed to do with the property.

Changchun Seizure By Reds Forecast

they need the latter. They have an estimated 40,000 troops in the area, opposed by some 4,000 government troops and a home guard force — the Peace Preservation Corps (P.P.C.)—of doubtful value.

A Mukden dispatch to the government newspaper, New Life, here said telegraphic communications with Changchun were interrupted yesterday. (The fact Masterson got out a dispatch indicated communications of some sort were established, if only briefly.)

The New Life report also said the P.C.C. was resisting, but was forced to shorten its lines in an attempt to protect government officials who had been sent into Changchun to take over administration when the Russians withdrew Sunday night.

Latest dispatches placed the First Army about 80 miles south of Changchun, indicating it had pushed only 10 miles out of the city yesterday.

The official Central News Agency reported yesterday from Changchun that the capital was being shelled and that headquarters of the 14th Airforce, directly across from Chinese Government Headquarters there, was destroyed by direct hits.

Marshall was scheduled to confer here with his substitute on the Sino - American Peace-Seeking Committee of three, Lt. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., and with Walter S. Robertson, U. S. Minister to China.

After conferences at the Sino-American Truce Headquarters in Peiping, Marshall and Gillem are scheduled to fly tomorrow to Chungking, to confer with the government and Communist members of the committee of three.

The latter two members flew to Chungking today without awaiting Marshall's arrival here.

Chinese Communist troops streamed through Changchun's broken defenses as early as Monday, official government news dispatches said. The small defense force, completely encircled and beyond quick reach of reinforcements, presumably was driven speedily back to the sandbagged heart of the city.

Confesses Failure

Gillem, who sought in Marsall's absence to halt the Manchurian strife, meanwhile confessed failure. "We have not yet succeeded," he told both factions bluntly in a banquet-table peace meeting in Mukden.

Government sources in Chungking estimated it would take a week for strong National forces now in the Szepingkai area, 60 miles south of Changchun, to reach the capital.

Isolated with Changchun's overwhelmingly outnumbered garrison was Masterson, who had reported the beginning of the Chinese Communist onslaught the preceding day. Also isolated there were four other American correspondents and Maj. Robert Rigg, Chicago, U. S. assistant military attache, and a staff of four.

By Monday, the attacking columns had slashed into the city "from several directions," government dispatches reported.

Mukden officials said they were attempting to arrange for removal of the correspondents—one a women—by a neutral plane.

An official dispatch received in Chungking today from Mukden reported that Communists had seized an American liaison plane at Changchun airfield. Presumably, it was the two-seated craft in which Rigg had flown there and the seizure of which previously had been reported.

Will Use New Bus Starting Thursday On Broadway Line

The second new bus recently acquired by the Kingston City Transportation Corporation will be placed in service on Thursday, according to a company spokesman.

Although similar in design to the bus already in service for the past month on the Broadway line, the most recent purchase is painted in the regulation yellow and cream combination so familiar to Kingston residents, and is lettered in red and numbered 40.

The bus, powered with a Ford V-8 motor, is equipped with air brakes and air-operated doors, both front and side, and has a larger carrying capacity than the present buses now in use on the Broadway line.

Truman Would Visit China, Japan on Trip

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman told his news conference today that he would like to visit both China and Japan during a tentatively planned trip to Manila this summer for the inauguration of Philippine independence on July 4.

As to whether he would take that occasion to go to Japan, the President said he didn't know, asserting that much depended on his schedule at home.

said, ousting "The party in political power and moving sharply toward a more liberal concept of the relationship between government and the people.

"He who fails to see in this election a demonstration of democracy on the March . . . either fails to understand the meaning of democracy or is blinded by prejudice," Whitney asserted.

Asks Credit Be Given

Whitney asked that Allied occupation policies be given credit for the "demonstration of democracy" on election day, and that the Japanese be credited for an attempt to attain democracy.

MacArthur, replying to a Council suggestion that it be given copies of all directives exchanged between headquarters and the Japanese government, said members already had enough material, which "if digested, should bring them fully abreast of the present situation."

Whitney, however, declared he would furnish the Russians with all requested information on the purge program "if it takes all summer."

Freezing temperatures again prevailed in Kingston last night, and skim ice formed. both on and off the baseball field and was determined to provide for both the best education possible. "I look back with a measure of regret tonight," Mayor Edelmuth said. "Regret because Lou's father is not here to see him in one of his moments of greatest triumph. I am sure he looks down from above and his guiding spirit will stand Lou in good stead in his tasks ahead."

Charlie Tiano, Freeman staff reporter and bowling columnist, who was a teammate of District Attorney Bruhn on several baseball clubs, said it was a source of gratification to Mr. Bruhn's former baseball cronies that one of their number had achieved such distinction.

Throughout his career as a ball player and bowler, Tiano said, the new district attorney had exhibited outstanding traits of sportsmanship and unimpeachable conduct, both on and off the field.

Haver Is Speaker

N. LeVan Haver, whom Mr. Bruhn succeeded in office, revealed that he had made a pledge a few years ago when Mr. Bruhn was inducted into service. He had pledged that if Lou Bruhn came through unscathed and returned to Kingston, he would move out of office and work for Bruhn's appointment.

Mr. Haver said he was gratified to have been able to consumate that pledge. He gave his successor some carefully chosen words of encouragement and advice, remarking that now more than ever before Lou Bruhn would need the support and help of his many friends in the sports world of Kingston.

The district attorney's office was not without its headaches, Haver said, and his successor might find it extremely difficult to avoid arguments, battles and difficulties in the manner which he did on the baseball field. Haver predicted that Bruhn would definitely be a candidate to succeed himself in the fall and said he was confident the sports element would give him full support.

Dick McCarthy, WKNY sportscaster in extending congratulations to the district attorney, said that every time he attended an affair of that nature, he was vividly impressed by the fine spirit of fellowship that exists among Kingston's old time baseball stars. McCarthy said it was a source of keen regret to him that he had not been in Kingston during the heyday of the various ball players.

Jack Dawkins and Artie Organtine also paid tribute to Mr. Bruhn in brief speeches.

Displaced persons of Europe received the 9,000,000 American Red Cross food parcels which were left over when the war ended.

U.P.A. Admits 4 New Members

Schleede, Craft, Mott and Minasian Are Taken In

Four new member stores have been admitted to the membership of the Ulster Provisioners Cooperative Association, Inc., of 10 East Strand, it was announced today by Walter A. Farmer, manager of the association.

The four stores and their proprietors are Martin Schleede of Abel's Market on Hasbrouck avenue; Raymond E. Craft of Craft's Super Food Market on O'Neil street; Edward Minasian of Minasian's Market on North Front street, and Leslie Mott of Mott's Market, formerly the Fairlawn Store, in Esopus.

Mr. Farmer said that during the past few months a number of applications for membership in the association had been received, but as yet only the four accepted had been acted upon.

The U. P. A., which was organized in 1835, has been gradually expanding in membership and in the amount of business transacted.

The association was organized for the purpose of serving food products to the consumers of this area through the independent retail grocers, and meeting the competition of chain stores. The association since its orgainzation does all of the buying of products for the member stores.

Mr. Farmer pointed out that the association through careful postwar planning were serving more and more sections of the city and county, in addition to tripling the association's business with non-members.

Burke Speaks Of Social Security To Lions Club

Charles Burke of the local Social Security office spoke to the Lions Club Tuesday on the benefits of Social Security under the existing laws.

In the form of answering questions, Mr. Burke explained what people covered by the Social Security laws might expect in the way of benefits under the various circumstances occurring during their working lifetime. The subject of the position of veterans of World War 2 was discussed, and Mr. Burke also detailed to his audience the mathematical methods by which an individual can ascertain his benefits under the existing laws governing Social Security.

Ordained

REV. J. B. DONALDSON

John B. Donaldson of 6 Crown street and William Samuels of Brooklyn appeared before the Council of the Gospel Sowers Church, 1117 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn, for examination, which they passed with a high percentage. A special service was then arranged for the purpose of setting them aside as ministers of the Gospel. The service took place in the Brooklyn church.

The ordination sermon was preached by Dr. Herbert A. Barton, D.D., pastor of Missionary Home. The charge was given by the Rev. George W. Dunn of the Gospel Sowers Church in St. Remy. As the two men knelt at the altar they were set aside by the laying on of hands by the Rev. S. C. Napurano, D.D., the Rev. H. A. Barton, D.D., the Rev. Cornelius C. Sparrow of the Church of Christian Fellowship, the Rev. G. W. Dunn, the Rev. E. Natino and the Rev. A. Osborn. The Rev. Richard MacDonald, S.T.D., made the prayer. The service, which lasted from 3 to 9:30 p. m., was sacred, inspiring and beautiful.

The Rev. Mr. Donaldson has been active in religious work, having obtained a local preacher's license the past two years filling many of the church pulpits in the surrounding villages. He is a member of the Church of the Nazarene on Wiltwyck avenue and also an officer in the church. He has the prayers and well wishes of a host of friends, who have known him through the years.

Fair Street Reformed Holy Week Services

Holy Thursday at 7:30 p. m., the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Fair Street Reformed Church in candlelight, using the primitive Christian form of the ancient Office of Tenebrae. This service of shadows was written in the fourth century when the Christian Church was still undergoing the persecution of the Roman emperors. It was written to be used on the Thursday before Easter, and depicts the desertion of the disciples after the Last Supper.

Elders reading the New Testament shadows will be J. W. Murray, C. A. Raschke, Frederick Hoffman, Hubert Hoderath, Stanley Matthews and William Newkirk. Visitors are welcomed to this service.

Good Friday, in cooperation with several of the uptown ministers, a three-hour service of the Meditations from the Cross will be conducted. The senior choir will sing the seven words as they are arranged in Wessel's cantata, "Calvary."

Ministers bringing the meditations will be:

12—The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, Church of the Comforter, "Father, forgive them."

12:30—The Rev. Arthur Oudemool, First Reformed Church, "This day shalt thou be with me."

12:55—The Rev. William McVey, First Presbyterian Church, "Woman, behold Thy son."

1:20—The Rev. Wesley Williams, St. James Methodist Church, "I Thirst."

1:45—The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, Fair Street Reformed Church, "Why hast Thou forsaken me."

2:10—The Rev. Robert G. Dickson, Reformed Church of Hurley, "It is finished."

2:35—The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, Fair Street Church, P. E., "Father into Thy hands I commend My Spirit."

Miss Marie Lund and Miss Geraldine Peters will sing solo parts in the choir worship. People of the community are invited to attend this servvice. There will be opportunity for worshippers to come and go between the meditations.

Wave Is Charged With Abandoning Baby in Church

Pleasantville, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Miss Mittle Gardner Anderson, 23, a former Wave, was in police custody today, Captain Walter H. Atkinson said, on a warrant issued by Washington, D. C., authorities charging her with abandoning an infant in a pew of St. Mary's Catholic Church in that city.

Capt. Atkinson said the girl was taken into custody last night, but was permitted to remain overnight with her grandparents here. She will be turned over to Washington police this afternoon, he added.

At the time the three-week old baby boy was found in the church about 10 days ago a letter left by the mother was found nearby. In it she said she was a Catholic, born and raised in the south, and had fallen in love with a man in the service.

She wrote that her parents objected to the marriage, because of religious differences and that she wanted a son of the man "for fear he wouldn't come back." He didn't, she said.

Of the child she wrote, "remember he was wanted, and not just something that happened because a couple of kids didn't know better."

Capt. Atkinson said today that Miss Anderson was not a Catholic, was raised in Atlantic City, several miles from here, was a good student in high school and came from an excellent family. He added that the girl told him the father of her child was living.

The attractive brunette was quoted by Capt. Atkinson as saying she wanted her baby back and that her grandparents, with whom she resided, wanted to make a home for him. She did not care to say anything further, Atkinson said, about the matter.

Brophy Is Credited With Recovering Stolen Automobile

his trip was halted by Officer Brophy.

Slater, according to the police, said he was a former resident of High Falls.

The police also checked his story of having been committed to Clinton Prison at Dannemora in 1935. The records of the district attorney's office show that an Archie Pierce Slater had been sentenced to prison on June 10, 1935, by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick. The charge lodged against Slater at that time was burglary in the third degree and unlawful entry.

Lieutenant Ernest Boss, who questioned Slater at police headquarters, said that the automobile that had been recovered was the property of Charles C. Clements of Menands.

When Slater is said to have confessed that he had stolen the car, the local police telephoned the Troy police regarding the theft of the car. They were informed that the car at that time had not been reported stolen.

Later in the morning Mrs. Clements, wife of the owner of the car, reported the theft to the Troy police.

When Slater was first arrested early this morning a charge of driving an automobile without an operator's license was lodged against him, but after he was alleged to have confessed to the theft of the car, a further charge of grand larceny was placed against him.

Slater will stand trial in Albany county.

Anglo, Iron Steel Will Become Public Owned, Wilmot Say

Minister of Supply Is Source of Report That Decision Is Reached

London, April 17 (AP)—Britain's iron and steel industry is to be brought largely under public ownership, John Wilmot, Minister of Supply in the Labor government, told the House of Commons today.

Wilmot said the government reached its decision after studying a report by iron and steel industrialists who had outlined a five to seven year program of reorganization at an estimated cost of $672,000,000.

"After full consideration, the government has reached the conclusion that the position of the industry and its importance in the national economy necessitate a large measure of public ownership and that legislation for this purpose should be prepared," he said.

Wilmot was chairman of a government committee which heard the steel masters' views.

The Labor government had put the iron and steel industry at the end of its nationalization program mainly because of its complexity. The issue was reported earlier to have divided the cabinet.

Wilmot did not present a detailed plan for taking over the industry but said he proposed to set up a "control board which will be responsible to me for the general control and supervision of the industry" during the transition period.

Nor did he say whether the nationalization would cover only the iron and steel plants or extend to the fabricators of iron and steel products.

Wilmot said he welcomed the industry's report "as an important contribution of the planned development of this basic industry."

"Immediate discussions will take place to insure that urgent modernization and development schemes are carried through without delay," he said.

Wilmot said the control board would consult industrialists and advise the ministry "on questions arising in the preparation of the scheme of nationalization, including the definition of the sections of the industry to be taken into public ownership."

Dr. Alfred Banks, who perfected it after being threatened by blindness himself, said the Lions Club here is underwriting production with the first 1,000 machines to go free to sightless war veterans.

No blind person, Dr. Banks has specified, may be charged more than $5 for the machine. The Lions Club, which estimates the cost of the machine at $15, plans to underwrite the difference.

The machine, weighing 18 ounces with six keys and a space board, stamps Braille characters in thin paper tape. A blind stenographer, Maxine Sautter of Los Angeles averages 140 words a minute taking short hand on it.

Minimum Salary Is Set

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Legislation setting a $1,600 minimum annual salary for school teachers in cities of not more than 150,000 was signed today by Governor Dewey. The bill also provides that the minimum shall be paid in school districts employing eight or more instructors. To apply only for the 1946-47 school year, the measure adds that no salary or annual salary increment shall be reduced because of the new legislation. Present salary schedules provide various base pay grades, and the effect of the bill is to raise the pay of about 500 teachers now getting less than $1,600.

Three Boys Are Burned To Death During Play

New York, April 17 (AP)—Three boys, playing "Buffalo Bill" in an abandoned chicken coop they used as a "frontier post," were burned to death late yesterday.

Firemen concentrated on keeping the fire from damaging a neighboring house to which the flames spread. They and members of the families were unaware the boys were trapped.

The charred bodies were found after the fire was extinguished.

The boys were Donald Ostrander, six; Thomas Kenney and Thomas White, both seven. Police said they apparently built a bonfire in the coop.

Esmond Vedder, 25, of Saugerties, was arrested Tuesday by State Police. He was held at the Ulster county jail pending a hearing before Justice Percy Bush of the town of Ulster on a charge of petit larceny.

McMahon Says He Expects Action

Preliminary Survey Cited as Good; Fessenden Drive Reported

International organizers of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union reported today that a preliminary survey of un-organized shirt and pajama workers in this city revealed that local workers will join in increasing numbers the already organized 350,000 cotton garment workers.

The assertion was made by Frank McMahon, local representative, at a meeting of Amalgamated officials and representatives workers of local factories last night at A.C.W.U. headquarters.

The Amalgamated last night announced an intensive drive to unionize all un-organized shirt workers in the city, starting with the Fessenden Company. The drive already is under way.

Representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers stated that the un-organized "open shop" principle of certain Kingston shops is out-dated by 10 years, and that workers in these shops have a right to the benefits now enjoyed by unionized shops in Kingston and vicinity.

Citing organization campaigns now being conducted in Kingston, and the success of the King Dress workers in achieving pay increases, Amalgamated Clothing Workers representatives said they were convinced the people of Kingston are rapidly becoming union-minded.

The Amalgamated also dispatched a letter of congratulations to Jacob Schneider, manager of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, complimenting the organization on the successful negotiations for a pay hike for King employes.

Demonstrate Judo for Cops

85 Persons Attend Training School For Police Officers

First Meeting Is Opened by Sheriff Smith at Court House; Film Shown

The first session of the basic In-service Training School for law enforcement officers of Ulster and Greene counties opened auspiciously at the Ulster county court house Tuesday night, with a registration of 85 members of various branches of service.

The school is to extend through eight weeks, with sessions on Tuesday night of each week.

Sheriff George C. Smith of Ulster county opened the session at 7:30 expressing his gratification at the fine response to invitations that had been issued. He introduced Chief of Police Phinney of Kingston, Sheriff Milton O. Bailey of Greene county and Major Thomas J. Hanlon, superintendent of the Napanoch Institution.

The Sheriff then turned the meeting over to Louis Hurley, special F.B.I. agent.

Mr. Hurley said that the present school was being sponsored by the Sheriffs Association and the Chiefs of Police Association of New York state, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation cooperating, as a longrange educational program for law enforcement officers. Another school will be held this fall and it is planned to hold spring and fall schools in 1947.

Mr. Hurley explained the rules and regulations governing the schools. He asked for punctual and regular attendance at the sessions and stated that two, but not more, absences would be excused if necessary. At the final session on June 4 diplomas will be issued to all who have earned them. Without these diplomas registrants may not enter the school to be held next fall.

Sheriff Smith announced that Carlton Taylor of Port Ewen would serve as director of the school during the present sessions.

The first part of the program was devoted to the showing of a very interesting film, illustrating the techniques and mechanics of arrests, with accompanynig lecture. The picture showed the proper methods of making arrests, searching prisoners and handling them after arrests; also errors to be avoided by law enforcement officers in carrying out their duties.

Judo Is Demonstrated

The second part of the program for the evening was a demonstration of ju-jitsu, also known as jiu-jitsu and judo, given by Special Agents Robert Deneen and David Jenkins of the F.B.I.

Agent Jenkins gave a brief history of this art of self-defense without weapons, which depends upon knowledge and skill as opposed to brute strength. It was stated that the art was developed by Chinese monks during the 12th century as a protection against nomads and robbers. Later the Japanese, on occasion of one of their invasions, learned the technique and took it back home with them, calling it the "gentle art of self-defense."

Agent Jenkins said that the art had been introduced into this country but had not become generally popular with Americans. However, it was largely used during the World War and was known as "hand-to-hand combat."

It was explained that skillful use of ju-jitsu depends upon a knowledge of anatomy and the numerous vulnerable points in the human body were pointed out to the audience.

The two experts then proceeded to give a complete demonstration of the many blows, holds and falls that are available for self-defense; also numerous ways in which a person attacked can disarm his attacker, providing he has attained the necessary skill and practice. Some of these blows can easily prove fatal, while others are crippling in different degrees.

Among Those Attending

Various police departments and enforcement agencies were represented at the first session of the school. In addition to Sheriff Milton O. Bailey and members of his staff of Greene county, the Catskill Police Department was represented. Officers Floyd Smith and William Rightmyer were present from the Saugerties department; Officers Frank Groppe and Abraham Rand from the Ellenville Police Department and Chief of Police Phinney and Lieutenant Stoudt were among representatives of the Kingston Police Department.

The Ulster county sheriff's office registered 37, with Sheriff Smith and members of his immediate staff, deputies and special deputies. The Napanoch Institution had a delegation of 18 officers and guards, headed by Major Thomas J. Hanlon. The Wallkill Prison had four officers in attendance; Guy R. Milroy of the Kingston office of the Conservation Department and three game protectors were registered, as were members of the New York Board of Water Supply Police and several town constables.

Broadway and at 6-10 Thomas street was known for years as the Diamond premises and has been owned by Frank Spadafora, who now transfers title to Mr. Rafalowsky. Included in the transfer is the Thomas street property which now houses the Astor Bar and Grill of which William J. Clare is proprietor.

Mr. Rafalowsky stated that included in the sale was all of the equipment and furnishings of the Astor Bar and Grill. On the upper floors of the building are located seven apartments. Mr. Rafalowsky stated that when he learned the premises were being offered for sale by Mr. Spadafora, he had entered into negotiations for the purchase of the property primarily so that he could continue to occupy the store where his business has been located for the past 16 years. He will take possession of the property next week.

"For the past 31 years I have been engaged in business on central Broadway between the point where the Kingston Trust Company is now located and my present location," said Mr. Rafalowsky who has been one of the principal boosters for the Central Broadway Business Men's organization, and he said he had decided to purchase the building in order that he might continue to conduct his men's clothing business in that section of the city which has been "home" to him so long.

Roving Horse Is Shot by J. Walker

a lot on the McSpirit farm and John Walker, son of Milton Walker, captured the animal.

The attention of Sheriff Smith had been called to the roaming animal on Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of the town of Ulster who has received complaints from market garden operators that their crops were being destroyed.

Sheriff Smith sent Deputy Sheriff Ellsworth to make an investigation and Mr. Harries told the officer that he was sending for aid to one of the local horse stables to round up the animal. However it was the "posse" of local residents which finally took the animal in tow.

Last night peace and quiet reigned in the neighborhood but after the horse had been restored to its owner it broke loose and this morning was again on the rampage.

Milton Walker and John Modica called at the court house this morning and again sought assistance of the sheriff. Sheriff Smith and Deputy Ellsworth again visited the scene and found the horse again on the loose. An interview with the owner brought forth the information that the horse might be shot.

Sheriff Smith and his deputy returned to the court house and loaded up with high powered guns, ready to set forth on the hunt again. However, later a horse dealer was contacted who agreed to try his luck at capturing the animal alive.

At the time of going to press that arrangement appeared to have been in force and it appeared as though the frisky black and white pinto might live to become a useful horse again.

Residents of the neighborhood complained to the sheriff that the horse in its mad flights had damaged a considerable amount of garden truck which had been planted. John Modica was one who complained that the horse had rolled in his lettuce beds and various other kinds of vegetables were allegedly damaged by the animal.

During the chase Tuesday afternoon the horse was tracked from the low foot hills of the Catskills to the flat-lands of the Esopus creek until finally cornered in a fence on the McSpirit farm where it was roped.

Incidentally Milton Walker's dog, which took part in the chase yesterday, was suffering from two badly blackened eyes which were the price of getting too close to the flying heels of the horse during the chase.

tioning was inaugurated, the average for civilian supplies was 136 pounds annually.

Lehman, speaking at a food mass meeting here last night, differed sharply with administration estimates that the overseas famine crisis would pass in 90 days. "We must assume," he declared, "that next winter's food situation will be as bad as the present—it would be sheer madness to accept any other conclusion."

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, in a simultaneous address before the United Nations forum, said announcement of a wheat rationing program now "would probably be the most severe blow that could be dealt to the cause of relief feeding around the world."

He noted that it would take months to put rationing into operation, and meanwhile the effect might be the hoarding of wheat rather than the freeing of it.

U. N. Turns Now To Polish Charge Of Nazis in Spain

Warm Debate Expected Over Anti-Franco Move; Bonnet Promises Talk

New York, April 17 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council turned today from the undecided Iranian case to the highly controversial question posed by Poland's charge that Franco Spain harbors Nazi war plotters and menaces world peace.

New support for the anti-Franco movement, indicated a warm debate when the Council meets at 3 p. m.

As the delegate of a nation which is a nextdoor neighbor of Spain, Ambassador Henri Bonnet of France said he expected to make a "lengthy" argument which observers believed might be based partly on unofficial charges by Spanish Republican leaders exiled in Paris. The latter says that Francisco Franco has 450,000 troops manned threateningly along the French frontier.

Since Poland lodged her charges last week that Spain was protecting and promoting German scientists engaged in "devising new means of warfare," unofficial sources have come forward with the assertion stoutly denied by Spain—that these scientists are engaged in atomic research.

The first official notice of the reference to atomics was taken by the Spanish cabinet in its blanket denial of the Polish and other accusations. The cabinet charged that the Polish proposals against Spain were part of a world-wide Communist campaign against the Franco regime.

The Polish demand for some sort of collective Council action to throttle and ultimately depose Franco finds the Council sharply split along new lines. Polish delegate Oscar Lange was ready to lead off against Franco with indications of strong support of Russia, France, Mexico and probably Australia, and with the stand-by backing of the Spanish Republicans-in-exile represented by an observer, Dr. Fernando De Los Rios.

The United States, Britain and Brazil, while willing to give the charges a hearing, have maintained that relations with Franco Spain should be determined by individual nations rather than concerted Council action.

Could Defeat Proposal

Since Poland needs seven affirmative votes to effect Council action, the United States, Britain and Brazil could defeat Lange's proposal by lining up two votes from among Egypt, the Netherlands and China, which have given no indication of their intentions.

China never has had relations with Franco Spain, while Egypt and the Netherlands remain among the nations Franco still classifies as "friendly."

However, prolonged debate is indicated before a vote can be reached, and the council may defer a final decision on the Spanish issue in order to bring up the Iranian question again. Russia's demand for dismissal of the Iranian case was put over at least until Thursday, when a committee of experts will give a guiding opinion on Secretary-General Trygve Lie's statement yesterday questioning the legality of keeping the Russian-Iranian question on the agenda.

The Spanish problem involves a nation barred from U.N. membership and at least one accuser—the Spanish Republican exiled group—which is not generally recognized as a government. There is the possibility that the council might invite both to be represented by witnesses.

Franco already has invited those nations represented on the council who maintain "friendly" relations with Spain to send investigators to see whether Germans are working on atomics in Spain.

Cantata at Redeemer Church

As is the custom a cantata appropriate to the Lenten season will be sung at the evening program in Redeemer Church. "Olivet to Calvary" music by J. H. Maunder and words written and arranged by Shapcott Wensley will be presented.

The cantata is arranged in two parts recalling simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the life of Jesus on the earth. The first part tells the story of the rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the city, the scene in the temple, and the lonely walk back over the mount at night. Part 2 opens with the supper of the Passover at which Jesus washes His disicples' feet, gives His friends the new commandment of love for one another. From this the scene passes to the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, the tumult in the judgment hall, Passage of the Cross and the triumph of Calvary.

Leonard Stine, choir director at Redeemer Church will conduct. Frederick Richens will be the organist. Soloists will be the Misses Caroline Hummel and Sue Merriam, sopranos; Richard Baker, Henry Hopper, P.F.C. Frank Modica, tenors; James Halbert and Robert G. Messinger, basses.

C. A. Raschkes Have 45th Anniversary Today

Mr. Raschke, who in November 1933, retired from his postal service recalled that 45 years ago his wedding day had been clear and cool very similar to the weather of today. Besides his interest in his garden and flowers, Mr. Raschke's chief hobbies are collecting stamps and cabinetwork. Among the specimens of his cabinetwork are numerous handmade "grandfather's" clocks.

STRANGERS NOT INVITED TO SHOWERS

The "shower" described in the following letter seems to me a threatening custom that should be checked before it develops further: "I have just received an invitation to a shower in honor of a young woman I hardly know, certainly not to the extent of being asked to contribute several dollars toward buying her an important present! Neither am I a personal friend of anyone in her family nor do I know the man or his family. I do not feel able to accept this invitation, but I am wondering whether I am supposed to do anything about contributing. On the several occasions I have been invited to showers for my personal friends, I always have sent present just the same, because I wanted to. At the same time I have imagined it was expected always. What is your advice in the case of this new experience?"

The spirit of a shower is nothing like this. The chief pleasure of it is the displaying of a lot of packages and the fun of opening them. This asking for a sum of money like a contribution to a benefit is to me very unpleasant and certainly not a shower. Although it is not expected that one unable to go to the shower should send a present, the occasions when you have chosen to do so were all right, but to send a present to a stranger would be absurd—and a contribution still more so.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Ruby Kessler, 139½, New York, outpointed Juan Carrero, 136, Puerto Rico, (8).

Boston—Al "Red" Priest, 155½, Cambridge, knocked out Jiggs Donahue, 154, Philadelphia, 8.

New York—Irving Palesky, 146, New York, knocked out Leo Romanello, 142, Brooklyn, 4.

Trenton, N. J.—Jimmy Callura, 124, Hamilton, Ont., outpointed Polo Grounders to an 8-4 decision over the Phillies. After Ott and Ernie Lombardi had delivered early homers, Danny Murtaugh and Ron Northey found the range on Bill Voiselle to give the Giants and the 33,693 spectators a thorough scare.

The vaunted St. Louis Cardinals pitching staff went haywire, yielding 11 hits, two wild pitches, eight walks and a hit batsman in losing to Pittsburgh, 6-4 before 14,000 payees. Starter Johnny Beazley was clouted early and often but reliefer Harry Brecheen lost the verdict to Fireman Ken Heintzelman.

Chicago's National League champs had to rally with four runs in the ninth to shade Cincinnati, 4-3, after Joe Beggs had held them to one hit in the first eight innings. The Reds had their customary large opening turnout, 30,699 paid.

A muffed fly by rookie outfielder Gene Hermanski and a boot by shortstop Pee Wee Reese enabled Boston to score two unearned runs and a 5-3 win over Brooklyn. Boston turned out 18,216 strong to watch Billy Southworth make a successful debut as Braves' manager, Johnny Sain outlasted Hal Gregg for the pitching verdict.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Baseball is back on the gold standard today with such pre-war glamor names as Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Feller, Ted Williams and Hank Greenberg in the headlines once again.

Mel Ott and Hal Newhouser were the only holdover from the wartime campaigns in the select circle, dominated by ex-G.I.'s, that delighted 236,730 fans at yesterday's eight big league openers.

The first day of the 1946 campaign, widely hailed as the beginning of a new golden era in sports, was a huge success both financially and artistically. Attendance showed more than a 100 per cent increase over the 1945 figures and was the second highest in history.

Home Run Fever Revived

DiMaggio, Williams, Greenberg and Ott revived the home run fever that has been running low in wartime seasons and Feller, Newhouser and Spud Chandler showed the boys some fancy pre-war chucking.

The Newhouser-Greenberg team probably was the most eye-arresting of the lot. Lefty Hal spun a neat six-hitter for his first opening day win but he needed Big Hank's line drive homer to get a 2-1 decision for the world champion Detroit Tigers over Nelson Potter and the St. Louis Browns before the day's largest crowd, 52,118.

DiMaggio and Chandler also provided a one-two punch for the New York Yankees who appear to be headed back toward the heights. Jolting Joe's 400-foot clout with Tommy Henrich on base eased the ace righthander along the way to a five-hit 5-0 shutout of Philadelphia as Shibe Park's largest opening day turnout, 37,472, watched in awe.

Longest in 15 Years

Williams, making his first big league appearance since 1942, thrilled President Truman and 30,372 Washington fans with a 430-foot home run, the longest seen at Griffith Stadium in 15 years. Tex Hughson sprinkled 11 Senator hits along the route for a 6-3 Boston verdict over Roger Wolff.

Feller turned in the prize pitching job, a three-hit, 1-0 blanking of Chicago but the Cleveland fireball artist needed a belly-flop catch by Bob Lemon, another ex-G.I., to save the game in the ninth inning. A chilled crowd of 20,106 watched Feller win his duel with Specs Dietrich.

Giants Display Power

New York Giant power, widely advertised all spring, was very much in evidence as Manager Ott's 511th round-tripper sparked the

'Y' Leagues Hold Annual Banquet

Here are some of the officials and guests of the Y.M.C.A. Mercantile and Federation Bowling Leagues who attended the annual post-season banquet at the "Y" Tuesday night. Seated in the front row are Burt Tandy, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.; Clarence Rowland, guest speaker; Roy Van Bramer, president of the Mercantile Bowling League; Ray Roux, newly-elected president of the loop, and Harry Gray, president of the Federation League. In the back row are Paul Zucca, Danny Bittner, Vernon Freese, secretary of the Kingston Bowling Association; the Rev. W. W. Williams and Ted Young, chairman of the Y.M.C.A. bowling committee. (Freeman Photo).

Ray Roux Is Elected President Of Y.M.C.A. Mercantile League

Succeeds Roy Van Bramer at Elections Held on Tuesday at Annual Post-Season Party

Ray Roux, leading kegler of the Fuller bowling team, was elected president of the 1946-47 Y.M.C.A. Mercantile Bowling League Tuesday night following the regular post-season banquet of the combined Mercantile and Federation Leagues at the local "Y" building. Roux will succeed Roy Van Bramer who was president during the 1945-46 campaign. Sam Hayes was voted vice president of the loop while Ed Bock and Lou Schafer were named recording and corresponding secretaries. Ernie LeFever was elected treasurer to succeed himself.

A large delegation of both the Y.M.C.A. Mercantile and Federation circuits turned out for last night's annual affair. Following a roast beef supper, awards to the various bowlers and teams were who saved yesterday's showing of five derby eligibles at Jamaica from being one of the fanciest busted bubbles of the spring.

When Nominees

While such well-supported nominees as Windfields and Lycos looked as if they needed an outboard motor apiece, Alworth came winging up the stretch in one half of the Jamaica Handicap to wind up a good fourth to William Woodward's flashy filly Bonnie Beryl, and thereby indicates he'd enjoy more room to run in.

The hottest part of the Wood will see Hampden and Assault fighting it out for the distinction of going to the derby as the fair-haired boy from these parts.

The Delaware Dandy and the Texas Flier each won his only local outing as if he owned the race track and the boys hereabouts practically come to blows arguing their merits in the local soda shops.

Train Reservations To Louisville Big Prize at Jamaica

Small Batch of Ducats Will Go to Winners of Wood Memorial on Saturday

New York, April 17 (AP)—There'll be something like a $22,000 pay check waiting at the finish of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday, but most of the gee-gees trying for it will be more interested in a small batch of railroad tickets going to the gallopers who hurry home the quickest.

These, naturally, are for lowers on the Louisville Limited reaching Churchill Downs on May 4, and while there may be as many as 15 three-year-olds answering the starter's "come on now" for the Wood, Saturday, the glamour boys in the lot are about a dozen who'll be shooting for that Kentucky Derby train ride.

Nine of these eligibles for the roses, are virtually definite starters in the top eastern derby prep which this year has a $25,000 added price tag and gives the hayburners their first chance to run a mile-and-a-sixteenth. Packing the derby load of 126 pounds.

Three Head List

Heading this set are the three who already have just about sewed up train reservations, Hampden, Assault and Islam Prince along with Laddie Sanford's flaming winner of last winter, Round View, and Al Ernst's Alamond, who clicked in the experimental last Saturday under a 106-pound feather, but was no Man O'War doing it.

In addition, there'll be those getting a last shot to prove if they should get the trip, or, should stay home and listen to the derby on the radio. One of these is the sometimes flashy Florida campaigner of last winter, Cedar Creek, from the Warrenton, Va., barn of Walter Chrysler.

The others are the recent flop-eroos, Marine Victory and Mist O'Gold, out to make up for their collapsible cantering in the experimental.

Still another will be the tall, tan Alworth, owned by Mrs. R. D. Patterson of Dayton, Ohio,

Snyder and Party Back From Florida

Pound Dolphin

County Clerk Robert A. Snyder has returned from a two weeks vacation trip to West Palm Beach, Florida, where he, Fred Van Voorhis and William Young, also of Saugerties, spent a portion of the time deep-sea fishing.

All of the fisherman report good luck but Mr. Young landed the prize catch, a 50½ pound dolphin which measured five feet six and three quarters in length.

The dolphin, while not so long as others caught off Palm Beach this season, was entered in the fishing contest because if its unusual weight and Palm Beach fisherman were of the opinion that Mr. Young would capture one of the coveted prizes.

Stirnweiss appeared here in Kingston during the winter months at the Y.M.C.A. as one of the guest speakers during the Baseball Night program. Manager Davi reported to The Freeman that he has signed a number of players for his Waterbury club and added that he expects to be back up north within a few more days.

Two Night Tilts Set for Stadium Grounds This Year

Port Meets Locals Here Under Lights May 29; First Home Game Set for May 3

The Kingston High School baseball team will open its 1946 season at Arlington next Wednesday afternoon, April 24 in the first of 13 games, it was announced today. Kingston's first home game will be Friday afternoon, May 3, when the Middies from Middletown appear at the municipal stadium in the first DUSO League tilt of the year.

Three Night Games

Something new has been added to the Maroon and White schedule this year when Coach Pete Hatch announced that three night attractions would be played by his charges this year. The first arc-light clash is scheduled for Monday, May 20, at Newburgh under the lights which will be used by the Hummingbirds of the North Atlantic League. Following this tile two after-dark games are slated for the local uptown ball orchard. The first is set for Wednesday, May 29 with Port Jervis furnishing the opposition and the second on Friday, June 7, when the Goldbacks from Newburgh appear here.

In announcing the scheduling of the night contests, Coach Hatch told newsmen "The fans have been asking for night games for three years since I've been coach. Well, now we're giving them just what they wanted, and I hope the fans will support us."

One of the biggest Maroon turnouts for baseball responded to the first call by Coach Hatch some weeks ago when 128 players reported for action. Although the squad will be sliced to about 40 very soon, which means a big pruning is due soon, this turnout proves that local interest in baseball is improving.

Since the municipal stadium has not been available for practice, Coach Hatch and Coach Cliff Miller, recently returned from the armed forces, have been watching their charges cavort about the diamonds at Hasbrouck and Barmann Parks. The recent cold wave has cut practice down to a minimum but the Maroon tossers have been getting plenty of drills even though somewhat limited.

Six Lettermen Back

Six lettermen are among the candidates reporting for duty this year while there are several more who have had some baseball experience. The returning lettermen are Bill Crosby, last year's varsity first baseman; George Glaser, promising infielder from last year; "Tex" Brown, due to become Pete Hatch's No. 1 hurler; "Red" Gorsline, hard-hitting outfielder; Dick Dulin, sophomore outfielder who earned a regular job when a freshman; and Ken Lowe, promising fly-chaser of last year.

Several others who saw some action last season and who may be in line for a regular post this year are Ed Weaver, Don Rice, Chris Lay, Paul Kaman and Tom Fay. Weaver, just through with his winter work with the basketball team, is looked upon as a darkhorse to beat out Crosby for the initial sack job. Rice is a hard-hitting outfielder, while Lay is listed as a catcher, and Kaman in the infield category.

The 1946 Maroon schedule follows:

Date	Opponent	Place
April 24	Arlington	Arlington
April 27	N.Y.M.A.	N.Y.M.A.
May 3	*Middletown	Kingston
May 10	*Port Jervis	Port Jervis

Morris Hymes HAS YOUR EASTER OUTFIT IT'S HERE

Church Stars Win

Following the presentation of awards, a number of movies were shown by Tommy Bashall.

In a special bowling match following the banquet the Federation Church League All Stars scored a 150-pin victory over the Mercantile All Stars. Williams, Post, Smith, Morris and Burr worked for the winners while Vining, Maylahn, Shellhammer, Hitchcock and Bartroff rolled for the losing club.

Averages of the Federation and Mercantile Leagues will be published in the near future.

Freese Makes Awards

Vernon Freese, retiring secretary of the Kingston Bowling Association, followed on the program after Mr. Rowland and presented the A.B.C. medals to the bowlers of the two leagues on behalf of the K.B.A. Those receiving medals were Ferris Williams, Ray Roux, Stan Winne. Harold "Chicken" Smith and Austin Hitchcock finished the year with high games of 247 and Secretary Freese presented the medal for this score to President Harry Gray. According to K.B.A. rules only one medal is awarded in case of a tie and the association secretary pointed out that the two bowlers could meet in a playoff to determine the eventual winner.

Secretary Freese lauded the Mercantile and Federation circuits for their successful season and expressed hope that the two loops would return next season to assist in the rebuilding of bowling as one of Kingston's top sports. Freese also spoke of Stan Winne's sensational single of 278 which was rolled on the "Y" alleys at the end of the campaign.

Winners in the twin loops this year were Clinton Avenue 1 and Presbyterian 1 in the Federation Leagues and Everett and Treadwell and Erfels in the Mercantile. Captains of these squads were presented appropriate awards.

Zucca and Danny Bittner, was enjoyed.

Clarence Rowland, speaking on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. was the only guest speaker on the program Tuesday night and in a few choice words expressed his sincere appreciation to the bowlers of the two loops for their assistance during the past season.

Iturbi's Daughter Reported Suicide In Father's Home

Woman, 28, Is Found on Bedroom Floor, Her Hair Afire; Gives Version

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 17 (AP)—A revolver wound in the temple brought to an end today the strife-ridden life of Maria Iturbi Hero, 28-year-old daughter of the concert pianist, Jose Iturbi.

She was found by her father, lying on the floor of his bedroom, her hair afire, a .32 caliber gun near her outstretched arm. She died two hours later in a hospital, as brain specialists admitted there was nothing they could do to save her.

Iturbi, near collapse, was at her bedside. Her two daughters, center of years of court battles with her father and her former husband, remained at home with their nurse.

Det.-Sgt. Arthur H. McBain, calling the shooting "clearly a case of suicide," said Iturbi told him he returned home shortly before midnight and was playing the piano in his drawing room when he heard a shot.

Rushing upstairs, he found his daughter sprawled by a bed. Extinguishing the flames in her brunette hair, he called an ambulance.

Miss Iturbi, a slim, Latin girl then 18, was married in Bedford Hills, N. Y., in 1936 to Stephan Hero, 20, a violinist. Their two daughters are Maria Teresa, 9, and Maria Antonia 8.

In 1939, she filed suit for separation in New York, alleging non-support. The following year a settlement was reached, giving Hero custody of the children for three months a year.

She and the children arrived here in 1941, and a few months later she was awarded full custody, in connection with a suit for divorce.

But in 1943, her father petitioned for their custody, terming his daughter "not the proper person" to have their charge. An out-of-court settlement later reaffirmed her custody, on condition that the children live in the pianist's home.

Porter Says Panic Has Potentials

tainly be denounced as a crackpot or a Communist—or both.

"Yet for Congress to heed those who now advocate a serious curtailment of O.P.A.'s powers would be to invite an inflation which would impose just such a levy."

Porter also made these assertions:

"The problem is to get production without starting up the inflation which would soon choke off the vast outpouring of goods we need."

"Decontrol (of) all but a few basic commodities * * * is a job which would be both grotesquely unfair and economically impossible."

Misinforming Congress

"There are some industries which are misinforming Congress and misleading the American people" about the effects of O.P.A. control.

"We already have a serious black market (lumber) problem on our hands—especially in southern lumber. * * * we have broken such rackets before and we shall break this one."

"Admittedly there is a black market in meat. * * * but the suggestion that we lick the black market by dropping controls sounds to be like suggestions that we avoid traffic violations by repealing our traffic regulations."

Coykendall House Will Be Purchased By Len, Contractor

Joe Len, widely known building contractor of Albany avenue, has contracted to purchase the residence property of the late S. D. Coykendall on West Chestnut street.

The big house has been vacant for a number of years. It is a three-story brick structure surmounted by a brick turret, and for years had been one of the show places of Kingston.

An effort to get in touch with Mr. Len this morning was futile, but a member of his family stated that he was not prepared to state definitely what he proposed to do with the property.

Changchun Seizure By Reds Forecast

they need the latter. They have an estimated 40,000 troops in the area, opposed by some 4,000 government troops and a home guard force — the Peace Preservation Corps (P.P.C.)—of doubtful value.

A Mukden dispatch to the government newspaper, New Life, here said telegraphic communications with Changchun were interrupted yesterday. (The fact Masterson got out a dispatch indicated communications of some sort were established, if only briefly.)

The New Life report also said the P.C.C. was resisting, but was forced to shorten its lines in an attempt to protect government officials who had been sent into Changchun to take over administration when the Russians withdrew Sunday night.

Latest dispatches placed the First Army about 80 miles south of Changchun, indicating it had pushed only 10 miles out of the city yesterday.

The official Central News Agency reported yesterday from Changchun that the capital was being shelled and that headquarters of the 14th Airforce, directly across from Chinese Government Headquarters there, was destroyed by direct hits.

Marshall was scheduled to confer here with his substitute on the Sino - American Peace-Seeking Committee of three, Lt. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., and with Walter S. Robertson, U. S. Minister to China.

After conferences at the Sino-American Truce Headquarters in Peiping, Marshall and Gillem are scheduled to fly tomorrow to Chungking, to confer with the government and Communist members of the committee of three.

The latter two members flew to Chungking today without awaiting Marshall's arrival here.

Chinese Communist troops streamed through Changchun's broken defenses as early as Monday, official government news dispatches said. The small defense force, completely encircled and beyond quick reach of reinforcements, presumably was driven speedily back to the sandbagged heart of the city.

Confesses Failure

Gillem, who sought in Marsall's absence to halt the Manchurian strife, meanwhile confessed failure. "We have not yet succeeded," he told both factions bluntly in a banquet-table peace meeting in Mukden.

Government sources in Chungking estimated it would take a week for strong National forces now in the Szepingkai area, 60 miles south of Changchun, to reach the capital.

Isolated with Changchun's overwhelmingly outnumbered garrison was Masterson, who had reported the beginning of the Chinese Communist onslaught the preceding day. Also isolated there were four other American correspondents and Maj. Robert Rigg, Chicago, U. S. assistant military attache, and a staff of four.

By Monday, the attacking columns had slashed into the city "from several directions," government dispatches reported.

Mukden officials said they were attempting to arrange for removal of the correspondents—one a women—by a neutral plane.

An official dispatch received in Chungking today from Mukden reported that Communists had seized an American liaison plane at Changchun airfield. Presumably, it was the two-seated craft in which Rigg had flown there and the seizure of which previously had been reported.

Will Use New Bus Starting Thursday On Broadway Line

The second new bus recently acquired by the Kingston City Transportation Corporation will be placed in service on Thursday, according to a company spokesman.

Although similar in design to the bus already in service for the past month on the Broadway line, the most recent purchase is painted in the regulation yellow and cream combination so familiar to Kingston residents, and is lettered in red and numbered 40.

The bus, powered with a Ford V-8 motor, is equipped with air brakes and air-operated doors, both front and side, and has a larger carrying capacity than the present buses now in use on the Broadway line.

Truman Would Visit China, Japan on Trip

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman told his news conference today that he would like to visit both China and Japan during a tentatively planned trip to Manila this summer for the inauguration of Philippine independence on July 4.

As to whether he would take that occasion to go to Japan, the President said he didn't know, asserting that much depended on his schedule at home.

said, ousting "The party in political power and moving sharply toward a more liberal concept of the relationship between government and the people.

"He who fails to see in this election a demonstration of democracy on the March . . . either fails to understand the meaning of democracy or is blinded by prejudice," Whitney asserted.

Asks Credit Be Given

Whitney asked that Allied occupation policies be given credit for the "demonstration of democracy" on election day, and that the Japanese be credited for an attempt to attain democracy.

MacArthur, replying to a Council suggestion that it be given copies of all directives exchanged between headquarters and the Japanese government, said members already had enough material, which "if digested, should bring them fully abreast of the present situation."

Whitney, however, declared he would furnish the Russians with all requested information on the purge program "if it takes all summer."

both on and off the baseball field and was determined to provide for both the best education possible. "I look back with a measure of regret tonight," Mayor Edelmuth said. "Regret because Lou's father is not here to see him in one of his moments of greatest triumph. I am sure he looks down from above and his guiding spirit will stand Lou in good stead in his tasks ahead."

Charlie Tiano, Freeman staff reporter and bowling columnist, who was a teammate of District Attorney Bruhn on several baseball clubs, said it was a source of gratification to Mr. Bruhn's former baseball cronies that one of their number had achieved such distinction.

Throughout his career as a ball player and bowler, Tiano said, the new district attorney had exhibited outstanding traits of sportsmanship and unimpeachable conduct, both on and off the field.

Haver Is Speaker

N. LeVan Haver, whom Mr. Bruhn succeeded in office, revealed that he had made a pledge a few years ago when Mr. Bruhn was inducted into service. He had pledged that if Lou Bruhn came through unscathed and returned to Kingston, he would move out of office and work for Bruhn's appointment.

Mr. Haver said he was gratified to have been able to consumate that pledge. He gave his successor some carefully chosen words of encouragement and advice, remarking that now more than ever before Lou Bruhn would need the support and help of his many

Schleede, Craft, Mott and Minasian Are Taken In

Four new member stores have been admitted to the membership of the Ulster Provisioners Cooperative Association, Inc., of 10 East Strand, it was announced today by Walter A. Farmer, manager of the association.

The four stores and their proprietors are Martin Schleede of Abel's Market on Hasbrouck avenue; Raymond E. Craft of Craft's Super Food Market on O'Neil street; Edward Minasian of Minasian's Market on North Front street, and Leslie Mott of Mott's Market, formerly the Fairlawn Store, in Esopus.

Mr. Farmer said that during the past few months a number of applications for membership in the association had been received, but as yet only the four accepted had been acted upon.

The U. P. A., which was organized in 1835, has been gradually expanding in membership and in the amount of business transacted.

The association was organized for the purpose of serving food products to the consumers of this area through the independent retail grocers, and meeting the competition of chain stores. The association since its organization does all of the buying of products for the member stores.

Mr. Farmer pointed out that the association through careful postwar planning were serving more and more sections of the city and county, in addition to tripling the association's business with non-members.

Fair Street Reformed Holy Week Services

Holy Thursday at 7:30 p. m., the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Fair Street Reformed Church in candlelight, using the primitive Christian form of the ancient Office of Tenebrae. This service of shadows was written in the fourth century when the Christian Church was still undergoing the persecution of the Roman emperors. It was written to be used on the Thursday before Easter, and depicts the desertion of the disciples after the Last Supper.

Elders reading the New Testament shadows will be J. W. Murray, C. A. Raschke, Frederick Hoffman, Hubert Hoderath, Stanley Matthews and William Newkirk. Visitors are welcomed to this service.

Good Friday, in cooperation with several of the uptown ministers, a three-hour service of the Meditations from the Cross will be conducted. The senior choir will sing the seven words as they are arranged in Wessel's cantata, "Calvary."

Ministers bringing the meditations will be:

12—The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, Church of the Comforter, "Father, forgive them."

12:30—The Rev. Arthur Oudemool, First Reformed Church, "This day shalt thou be with me."

12:55—The Rev. William McVey, First Presbyterian Church, "Woman, behold Thy son."

1:20—The Rev. Wesley Williams, St. James Methodist Church, "I Thirst."

1:45—The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, Fair Street Reformed Church, "Why hast Thou forsaken me."

2:10—The Rev. Robert G. Dickson, Reformed Church of Hurley, "It is finished."

2:35—The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, Fair Street Church, P. E., "Father into Thy hands I commend My Spirit."

Miss Marie Lund and Miss Geraldine Peters will sing solo parts in the choir worship. People of the community are invited to attend this servvice. There will be opportunity for worshippers to come and go between the meditations.

Winne Residence Sold To Dr. Harold Mandell

Dr. Harold Mandell of 190 Washington avenue, who maintains his dental offices at 277 Fair street, on Tuesday purchased the large residence property of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Winne at 207 Pearl street. Dr. Mandell will take possession on July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Winne will take up their residence at Reno, Nevada, where they have purchased a home. Mr. Winne several months ago sold his hardware store and business on Wall street and retired.

The Winne residence on Pearl street is one of the finest residential properties in the city and was erected originally by Delancey N. Mathews who occupied it as a home. Later Mr. and Mrs. Winne purchased the premises and have since resided there. The residence, of brick construction, has extensive gardens and lawns about it.

Wave Is Charged With Abandoning Baby in Church

Pleasantville, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Miss Mittie Gardner Anderson, 23, a former Wave, was in police custody today, Captain Walter H. Atkinson said, on a warrant issued by Washington, D. C., authorities charging her with abandoning an infant in a pew of St. Mary's Catholic Church in that city.

Capt. Atkinson said the girl was taken into custody last night, but was permitted to remain overnight with her grandparents here. She will be turned over to Washington police this afternoon, he added.

At the time the three-week old baby boy was found in the church about 10 days ago a letter left by the mother was found nearby. In it she said she was a Catholic, born and raised in the south, and had fallen in love with a man in the service.

She wrote that her parents objected to the marriage, because of religious differences and that she wanted a son of the man "for fear he wouldn't come back." He didn't, she said.

Of the child she wrote, "remember he was wanted, and not just something that happened because a couple of kids didn't know better."

Capt. Atkinson said today that Miss Anderson was not a Catholic, was raised in Atlantic City, several miles from here, was a good student in high school and came from an excellent family. He added that the girl told him the father of her child was living.

The attractive brunette was quoted by Capt. Atkinson as saying she wanted her baby back and that her grandparents, with whom she resided, wanted to make a home for him. She did not care to say anything further, Atkinson said, about the matter.

Brophy Is Credited With Recovering Stolen Automobile

his trip was halted by Officer Brophy.

Slater, according to the police, said he was a former resident of High Falls.

The police also checked his story of having been committed to Clinton Prison at Dannemora in 1935. The records of the district attorney's office show that an Archie Pierce Slater had been sentenced to prison on June 10, 1935, by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick. The charge lodged against Slater at that time was burglary in the third degree and unlawful entry.

Lieutenant Ernest Boss, who questioned Slater at police headquarters, said that the automobile that had been recovered was the property of Charles C. Clements of Menands.

Later in the morning Mrs. Clements, wife of the owner of the car, reported the theft to the Troy police.

When Slater was first arrested early this morning a charge of driving an automobile without an operator's license was lodged against him, but after he was alleged to have confessed to the theft of the car, a further charge of grand larcency was placed against him.

Slater will stand trial in Albany county.

Anglo, Iron Steel Will Become Public Owned, Wilmot Say

Minister of Supply Is Source of Report That Decision Is Reached

London, April 17 (AP)—Britain's iron and steel industry is to be brought largely under public ownership, John Wilmot, Minister of Supply in the Labor government, told the House of Commons today.

Wilmot said the government reached its decision after studying a report by iron and steel industrialists who had outlined a five to seven year program of reorganization at an estimated cost of $672,000,000.

"After full consideration, the government has reached the conclusion that the position of the industry and its importance in the national economy necessitate a large measure of public ownership and that legislation for this purpose should be prepared," he said.

Wilmot was chairman of a government committee which heard the steel masters' views.

The Labor government had put the iron and steel industry at the end of its nationalization program mainly because of its complexity. The issue was reported earlier to have divided the cabinet.

Wilmot did not present a detailed plan for taking over the industry but said he proposed to set up a "control board which will be responsible to me for the general control and supervision of the industry" during the transition period.

Nor did he say whether the nationalization would cover only the iron and steel plants or extend to the fabricators of iron and steel products.

Wilmot said he welcomed the industry's report "as an important contribution of the planned development of this basic industry."

"Immediate discussions will take place to insure that urgent modernization and development schemes are carried through without delay," he said.

Wilmot said the control board would consult industrialists and advise the ministry "on questions arising in the preparation of the scheme of nationalization, including the definition of the sections of the industry to be taken into public ownership."

Trinity Lutheran Program For Holy Thursday

The student assistant at Trinity Church during the Holy Week services will be Gordon E. Hohl of the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pa. This will be the second year that Mr. Hohl is assisting with the Holy Week and Easter services.

The following musical program has been arranged by Anthony J. Messina, choir director, and Miss Lucinda Merritt, church organist:

Prelude—"Evensong" .... Thome
Anthem—"Seek Ye the Lord" ... Roberts
Senior Choir
Postlude—"Hymnus" .. McKinley

The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

Blind Have New Braille Typewriter

San Diego, Calif., April 17 (AP)—The blind have a new vestpocket Braille typewriter.

Dr. Alfred Banks, who perfected it after being threatened by blindness himself, said the Lions Club here is underwriting production with the first 1,000 machines to go free to sightless war veterans.

No blind person, Dr. Banks has specified, may be charged more than $5 for the machine. The Lions Club, which estimates the cost of the machine at $15, plans to underwrite the difference.

The machine, weighing 18 ounces with six keys and a space board, stamps Braille characters in thin paper tape. A blind stenographer, Maxine Sautter of Los Angeles averages 140 words a minute taking short hand on it.
